All 37 Were Killed

Last Of Bodies Found By Crews In Mine Mishap

CARMICHAELS, Pa. (AP) — The search is all over for 37 miners entombed in a shattering explosion last Thursday in a soft-coal mine. Grim rescue crews, after almost a five-day search, found the last of the bodies Monday night.

State mine officials blamed the explosion on methane gas and coal dust. All were killed instantly.

The blast occurred at 1:15 p.m. Thursday in U.S. Steel Corporation's Robena No. 3 mine, one of the world's largest mechanized operations, 50 miles southwest of Pittsburgh.

U.S. Steel said the entire area—650 feet underground — had been explored and there was no signs of life.

Many bodies remained to be identified.

Forty-four other miners working in another part of the mine shaft at the time of the blast escaped unhurt.

Joe Seper of Ronco, whose brother, Charles J., 57, was killed in the blast, vowed:

"I quit the coal mines, even if I have to go on relief."

There was no immediate indication if or when the mine will reopen.

The last body was sighted shortly after 11 p.m. Monday night, ending a five-day vigil maintained by friends and relatives.

The first body was recovered Saturday. Six bodies were recovered Sunday, and the rest were sighted Monday. They were strung out 4,000 feet from the working face of the mine to the face itself. Most were within 1,000 feet of the face of the coal vein.

Coroner Frank Behm of Greene County said the force of the explosion caused the deaths.

Many Areas Feel Frigid '1-2 Punch'

Schools Close, Cars Stalled; Crops In Florida Threatened

By The Associated Press

Snow closed schools and stranded motorists in the North today while freezing air threatened Florida's multi-million dollar crops today.

The icy one-two punch of wintry weather was the second to hit many areas in the eastern half of the nation since last Thursday.

Millions felt the sting of the cold, blustery weather. The heavy, blowing snow inconvenienced other millions.

Schools closed, travel slowed, and Christmas shoppers delayed buying tours.

Storm-related deaths soared past the 50 mark.

Weather forecasters held no hope of any immediate, general relief. Even colder weather was the unhappy forecast in many areas. And the winter season does not start officially until Dec. 22.

Scores of schools remained closed in the snow-stricken sections of northeast Ohio, including all in Cleveland. Up to two feet of fresh snow added to the highway problems. Strong winds continued to pile snow into huge drifts, and more snow was expected during the day. Amounts measured up to 30 inches in some areas.

Two villages near Fremont, between Cleveland and Toledo, were isolated Monday by mountainous drifts blocking roads. Residents reported shortages of food.

A 25-by-60 foot section of a roof of a fairground exhibition arena in Berea, a suburb of Cleveland, collapsed under four tons of snow piled on it.

Some 50 schools in the Allen County area remained closed today for the third straight school day. Main roads were open but virtually all county roads were impassable.

Snow accumulations ranged from 10 to 12 inches in the Lima area and the low temperature there early today was one above zero. The Lima Better Business Bureau estimated that the storm cost the city $1-2 million wages and sales.

Midwinter scenes were general along the southeast shores of the Great Lakes region, in sections of New York State, and other eastern areas. Huge drifts piled high as snow squalls persisted, adding more snow atop the heavy amounts left by last week's storms. Cleanup operations were slowed — and halted in some places.

Most of the Southland shivered in the season's coldest weather.

Florida temperatures dropped to 15 degrees below seasonal levels.

Farmers and grove owners worked through the night as heavy frost and freezing temperatures hit every section of the state except the Keys.

Near-Zero Low Due In City Tonight

Official Overnight Mark Is 4 Above In Winter's First Bite

The severest cold weather in nearly a year gripped Columbiana County today, forcing another suspension of most rural schools and sending the mercury tumbling to close to zero.

There was an official reading of 4 above zero, and others of 6 and 8 degrees, and it is possible the temperature may hit the "Big O" tonight.

Winds developed after midnight, causing new drifting of snow although the accumulation was light Monday. The road conditions principally forced closing of the schools in the county system. They had suspended last Friday after the first heavy snow.

The extreme northeastern area of the state may get heavy snow squalls today and there may be an accumulation of 5 inches in the Great Lakes counties.

Apparently it is too cold for additional snow in the East Liverpool area for which flurries were forecast.

The district low tonight will be 5 to 10 degrees above zero but it may drop to zero to 5 above elsewhere in the northern tier of counties.

The Ohio Weatherman described the outlook for the Ohio Valley as "very cold," by Wednesday and Edwin Copeland, U. S. weather observer at Millport, said the present frigid wave is abnormal for this time of the month.

He had a low of 4 above this morning. He said about five years ago it was 16 below zero at this time.

The downtown had its low mark of the season — 12 above at 6 a.m. The day's high range may not go over 18, then start falling sharply after the sun goes down.

There will be no relief possibly until Friday.

Nearly 6,000 children were out of classes today in the rural system.

Drifts of snow along secondary roads brought a decision by Beaver Local officials Monday night to cancel classes today. George

Special Group Takes Look At Foreign Aid

Bipartisan Unit Named By Kennedy To Sift Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has set up a bipartisan committee to take a hard, new look at the $4-billion-a-year foreign aid program and see if it's filling the bill.

To head the blue-ribbon group Kennedy named retired Gen. Lucius D. Clay, who for eight critical months was the President's representative in West Berlin.

One obvious aim of the study was to shape a program which will gain congressional and public approval in 1963.

The White House said Monday the group—named the Committee to Strengthen the Security of the Free World—"will undertake an immediate review of our military and economic assistance to determine whether the level and distribution of these programs is contributing materially to the security of the United States and is directed to specific and attainable goals of economic and political stability in the free world."

Last month, Fowler Hamilton resigned as administrator of the foreign aid agency, the Agency for International Development, after only one year in the job.

Some officials had criticized him for shaking up the organization.

When he stepped out, Hamilton advised the establishment of a permanent committee to examine the program's content and administration and recommend changes. A White House source said formation of the committee followed along the lines of Hamilton's suggestion.

To succeed Hamilton, Kennedy named Budget Director David E. Bell.

3 Children Perish In Fire Near Athens

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Three children burned to death early today and their mother and infant brother were burned critically when fire destroyed their frame house at Sharpsburg about 20 miles northeast of here.

The dead, children of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Holbert, were Carl Holbert Jr., 3; Fred, 5, and Marlene, 7.

The 29-year-old mother and a son Ronald, nine months, were taken to Marietta Hospital with serious burns.

A fifth child, Jeffery, 2, escaped unhurt.

It was reported that the mother had managed to gather up the two smaller children and take them from the flaming house.

India Spurns Red China's Peace Move

Peking's Reaction Awaited On Nehru Rejection Of Plan

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Indians awaited today Red China's reaction to Prime Minister Nehru's rejection of Peking's terms for settling their Himalayan border conflict.

In a broadcast today, the Chinese said they suspected India of "deliberately sabotaging" Peking's one-sided cease-fire "and creating a tense situation on the border."

The broadcast charged that Indian military planes flew reconnaissance missions Monday over captive Tibet and over Chinese-held territory on the eastern end of the disputed border.

Nehru told Indian soldiers in a broadcast Monday night the war might be long and hard but India would emerge victorious by freeing its territory of Chinese invaders.

He said India had welcomed the Chinese proclamation of a cease-fire Nov. 22 after 32 days of warfare.

But the Chinese should withdraw completely from India, Nehru said, instead of making proposals that would leave them in the Ladakh area of northwestern India.

"It appeared these proposals might be a cover for further attacks," Nehru said. "Therefore we have to be fully prepared."

Nehru declared earlier in Parliament: "At present there is no meeting ground between us."

Chester Gas Station Loses Cash In Entry

An undetermined amount of money and cigarettes and a box of tools were taken from the Maple Esso Service Station of Carolina Ave. sometime overnight, Chester Patrolman Frank Fetty reported today.

Intruders broke a pane of glass at the rear of the garage of the station and dragged the coin-operated cigarette machine from the station area into the garage and pried it open.

The station was entered last month but nothing was taken at that time. Ferman Maple of Grant St., Newell, is the operator.

Communist Party In U.S. Goes On Trial

Refusal To Register As Agent Of Soviet Union Being Cited

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Communist party of the United States goes on trial today for refusing to register as an agent of the Soviet Union.

The criminal action marks one more step in the government's long fight to force Communists to comply with the 1950 Internal Security Act.

Angry statements from supporters of the party prefaced the trial.

"If the Justice Department is allowed to bring the Communist party to trial as scheduled," James J. Tormey said, "American democracy itself will be placed in the dock.

"No minority party, no American will be safe."

Tormey is executive secretary of the Defense Committee for Gus Hall and Benjamin J. Davis. In a separate case, Hall and Davis have been indicted for refusing to register as individual officers of the Communist party. The Justice Department identifies Hall as general secretary and Davis as national secretary of the party.

Hall said the trial of the party "denies the American people their right of political choice."

"For the first time in the history of our country," he continued, "a political party has been brought into a criminal court and put on trial."

Coils Roll Off Truck And Strike Guardrail

Two heavy steel coils rolled off the bed of a tractor-trailer rounding an East End turn at 4 a. m. today and damaged the guardrail around a sign at a nearby service station, police reported.

The coils rolled off a rig operated by James O. Gray, 51, of Levittsburg, Ohio, as he made a turn at Park Way and Pennsylvania Ave., officers said. They struck the guardrail at a station owned by Petrosol Solvents, Inc., of Butler, Pa. Gray was charged with failure to secure the rig's load properly.

Gray was fined $15 and costs when he pleaded guilty to the charge this morning before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Midland Board Acts

School Merger Ballot Proposed

The Midland Board of Education Monday night adopted a resolution requesting that both the Western Beaver County School District and the Beaver County School Board have the question of a merger between Midland and Western Beaver placed on the spring primary election ballot.

John Shovlin, educational chairman, read the resolution, giving this explanation:

"(1) Due to the fact the senior high school enrollment of the Midland public schools has been reduced to 276 and this number is too small to economically provide a complete and full program of studies to prepare students for college and vocational life,

"(2) AND since the present professional staff could be used more productively to serve a larger school population, (3) And since our present facilities are adequate to serve a much larger senior high school population, (4) And since Act 561 requires all present school districts to be a part of a school district with 4,000 pupils by July 1, 1965."

If Western Beaver also asks that the question be placed on the ballot, then residents of both districts would vote on it. If approved it would go into effect July 1, 1963. Besides making possible full education programs economical for Midland, the district would receive additional funds from the state, something they would not get if they are forced to merge under Act 561.

The Midland district became smaller this fall when over 300 tuition-paying students began attending their own high school in the Western Beaver County District. In August 1960, the Midland Chamber of Commerce favored joining "surrounding neighbors."

THE Midland Board set Wednesday at 7 p. m. as a special meeting for a general business.

During committee reports, Edward Cilli, property chairman, reported that an appraisal of the district's school buildings has increased valuation by $26,832. A motion was approved to report the appraisal to the board's insurance broker for an adjustment in insurance coverage.

The board approved termination of services of George Payne Jr., a custodian, as of Nov. 10. Nick Satlan of Midland was hired as a custodian in the school system at $330 a month, effective today.

The board approved a motion to pay $300 to Samuel Rosatone, maintenance supervisor, for care of the athletic field lights and for general supervision of the field during night events. Approval was given on a motion by Maurice Newman, finance chairman.

RESIGNATIONS of Phillip Tridico and Mrs. Delores Howard, both of the high school faculty, were approved. Tridico is now teaching in Geneva, Ohio, area schools.

Soviet Troops Being Pulled Out Of Cuba

U.S. May Press For Swift Action If Withdrawal Lags

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet troops are being withdrawn from Cuba at a very slow rate, U.S. officials said today. And although the United States is not pressing Russia on the issue it is expected to do so if the withdrawals are not speeded up fairly soon.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk told a news conference Monday that the role of Soviet combat units in Cuba "is of great concern to us and something we will follow very carefully."

"Certainly we in this hemisphere could not accept as a normal situation any Soviet military presence in Cuba," he said.

The number of Soviet officers and men stationed on the Caribbean island is estimated at 9,000 to possibly 15,000—some organized, Rusk said, "into what appeared to be Soviet combat units."

He described the scale of Soviet power in Cuba as "modest . . . but well armed."

"Whether these (troops) were there for the protection of certain sites, missile sites or otherwise, or for some other purpose is something that is being, of course, watched very carefully."

Rusk held his first regular news conference since last July a few hours before flying to Paris

Calls For Leaders To Resign

Young's Charge Ignites Ohio Democratic Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — A simmering Ohio Democratic Party fight growing out of last month's thumping election defeats erupted openly today after a charge by Sen. Stephen M. Young that present state leaders are defeatist and should resign.

Young, with at least tacit White House backing, served notice that neither State Democratic Chairman William Coleman nor Gov. Michael V. DiSalle are going to have anything to do with picking Ohio's delegates to the party's 1964 national convention.

Young said that, as "one of Ohio's two top elected Democratic leaders," he intends to take a firm grip on the party reins.

He said he told that to an official of the state's party headquarters. This occurred, Young said, when the official called and informed him that Coleman had no intention of resigning and that DiSalle, defeated in his bid for re-election, was still state party chief.

"And if they don't believe me," Young said, "just let them call the White House and ask."

At Meeting In January

Traffic Group Will Map Citywide Safety Appeal

The Municipal Traffic Commission plans a citywide safety campaign in 1963, aimed at reducing the accident rate for both motorists and pedestrians, and will seek the co-operation of the Columbiana County Motor Club, the police department, High School authorities and Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Meeting Monday night in Mayor Bert H. Goodballet's office, the commission adopted a suggestion from W. C. Heasley, chairman, that it invite interested agencies and individuals to its next meeting Jan. 14 to discuss the campaign in detail.

Heasley said Steubenville has conducted a similar drive in the last year, crediting it with reducing the traffic accident rate 67 per cent. Citing the wide prevalence of jay-walking in the business district, he said a safety drive should be aimed at pedestrians as well as motorists.

The 90-minute meeting also was attended by John Kelly, W. Leland Thompson and Don Burbick, members of the commission.

Skids Blamed After 3 Local Auto Mishaps

Skids were blamed for three of four city traffic accidents Monday, police reported.

A collision at 1:55 p. m. yesterday involved a car operated by James E. Lovett, 19, of 5th Ave., LaCroft, and a parked car owned by Ernest Hood, 836 Pennsylvania Ave., police said.

Lovett told police he made a right turn from Peach Alley onto W. 6th St. when his car started to slide and he struck the parked Hood car, damaging the right rear door and bumper. The Lovett auto is owned by Woodrow Lovett, 2117 LaCroft Ave., police said.

A similar mishap on W. 5th St. near Monroe St. involved a 1957 car driven by Frank Lacey Jr., 19, of 1207½ Erie St., and a parked 1957 auto owned by Nancy Beth Bennett, 825 Lincoln Ave.

Lacey said he was headed west about 25 miles an hour when his car started to slide. He told officers he applied his brakes and turned the wheels but was unable

Midland Board Acts

School Merger Ballot Proposed

The Midland Board of Education Monday night adopted a resolution requesting that both the Western Beaver County School District and the Beaver County School Board have the question of a merger between Midland and Western Beaver placed on the spring primary election ballot.

John Shovlin, educational chairman, read the resolution, giving this explanation:

"(1) Due to the fact the senior high school enrollment of the Midland public schools has been reduced to 276 and this number is too small to economically provide a complete and full program of studies to prepare students for college and vocational life,

"(2) AND since the present professional staff could be used more productively to serve a larger school population, (3) And since our present facilities are adequate to serve a much larger senior high school population, (4) And since Act 561 requires all present school districts to be a part of a school district with 4,000 pupils by July 1, 1965."

If Western Beaver also asks that the question be placed on the ballot, then residents of both districts would vote on it. If approved it would go into effect July 1, 1963. Besides making possible full education programs economical for Midland, the district would receive additional funds from the state, something they would not get if they are forced to merge under Act 561.

The Midland district became smaller this fall when over 300 tuition-paying students began attending their own high school in the Western Beaver County District. In August 1960, the Midland Chamber of Commerce favored joining "surrounding neighbors."

Potters' Association Begins 84th Meeting

The U. S. Potters Association today launched its 84th annual meeting at the Pittsburgh Hilton Hotel.

Committee reports highlighted the opening session. The annual banquet is set tonight.

The meeting will close Wednesday with the election of officers. The retiring president is W. L. Smith III, sales manager of the Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co. About 100 pottery executives are attending.

Soviet Troops Being Pulled Out Of Cuba

U.S. May Press For Swift Action If Withdrawal Lags

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet troops are being withdrawn from Cuba at a very slow rate, U.S. officials said today. And although the United States is not pressing Russia on the issue it is expected to do so if the withdrawals are not speeded up fairly soon.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk told a news conference Monday that the role of Soviet combat units in Cuba "is of great concern to us and something we will follow very carefully."

"Certainly we in this hemisphere could not accept as a normal situation any Soviet military presence in Cuba," he said.

The number of Soviet officers and men stationed on the Caribbean island is estimated at 9,000 to possibly 15,000—some organized, Rusk said, "into what appeared to be Soviet combat units."

He described the scale of Soviet power in Cuba as "modest . . . but well armed."

"Whether these (troops) were there for the protection of certain sites, missile sites or otherwise, or for some other purpose is something that is being, of course, watched very carefully."

Rusk held his first regular news conference since last July a few hours before flying to Paris

Calls For Leaders To Resign

Young's Charge Ignites Ohio Democratic Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — A simmering Ohio Democratic Party fight growing out of last month's thumping election defeats erupted openly today after a charge by Sen. Stephen M. Young that present state leaders are defeatist and should resign.

Young, with at least tacit White House backing, served notice that neither State Democratic Chairman William Coleman nor Gov. Michael V. DiSalle are going to have anything to do with picking Ohio's delegates to the party's 1964 national convention.

Young said that, as "one of Ohio's two top elected Democratic leaders," he intends to take a firm grip on the party reins.

He said he told that to an official of the state's party headquarters. This occurred, Young said, when the official called and informed him that Coleman had no intention of resigning and that DiSalle, defeated in his bid for re-election, was still state party chief.

"And if they don't believe me," Young said, "just let them call the White House and ask."

At Meeting In January

Traffic Group Will Map Citywide Safety Appeal

The Municipal Traffic Commission plans a citywide safety campaign in 1963, aimed at reducing the accident rate for both motorists and pedestrians, and will seek the co-operation of the Columbiana County Motor Club, the police department, High School authorities and Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Meeting Monday night in Mayor Bert H. Goodballet's office, the commission adopted a suggestion from W. C. Heasley, chairman, that it invite interested agencies and individuals to its next meeting Jan. 14 to discuss the campaign in detail.

Heasley said Steubenville has conducted a similar drive in the last year, crediting it with reducing the traffic accident rate 67 per cent. Citing the wide prevalence of jay-walking in the business district, he said a safety drive should be aimed at pedestrians as well as motorists.

The 90-minute meeting also was attended by John Kelly, W. Leland Thompson and Don Burbick, members of the commission.

Skids Blamed After 3 Local Auto Mishaps

Skids were blamed for three of four city traffic accidents Monday, police reported.

A collision at 1:55 p. m. yesterday involved a car operated by James E. Lovett, 19, of 5th Ave., LaCroft, and a parked car owned by Ernest Hood, 836 Pennsylvania Ave., police said.

Lovett told police he made a right turn from Peach Alley onto W. 6th St. when his car started to slide and he struck the parked Hood car, damaging the right rear door and bumper. The Lovett auto is owned by Woodrow Lovett, 2117 LaCroft Ave., police said.

A similar mishap on W. 5th St. near Monroe St. involved a 1957 car driven by Frank Lacey Jr., 19, of 1207½ Erie St., and a parked 1957 auto owned by Nancy Beth Bennett, 825 Lincoln Ave.

Lacey said he was headed west about 25 miles an hour when his car started to slide. He told officers he applied his brakes and turned the wheels but was unable Music Store of Pittsburgh was approved. The school will receive a new alto horn, a French horn and a baritone horn.

Rosatone, maintenance supervisor, reported that he has contacted Don Craik, water department manager, and the ice rink at 7th St. School will be cleaned and flooded by today for skating.

He reported there is a problem of heating the dental clinic room at 4th St. School, and he has written several companies for prices on various heating methods.

ROSATONE reported that the high school boilers are holding up, that one started to leak and he repaired it. Supt. Ralph H. Jewell said a report on the boilers will be made by engineers at the next regular meeting Jan. 14.

Rosatone reported additional trouble with the school truck and James Morrison, president, referred the matter to the property committee for recommendation.

Jewell announced that the annual Mid-Winter School Board Institute, sponsored by the Tri-State Study Council, will be held Wednesday, Jan. 16, at Butler High School. Board members may attend the dinner and one of nine different sessions.

GENERAL bills of $8,473.83 were approved along with interim orders placed last month by Jewell amounting to $644.87. At the request of the Carnegie Library Board of Trustees and recommendation of the librarian, a book list in the amount of $228.45 was approved.

Receipts of $476.88, including $400 in rental fees, were voted to the proper account. Mrs. Eldamae Castelli, treasurer, reported a balance of $373,815.67 as of Dec. 1. Rudolph Presutti, tax collector reported taxes of $4,756.50 and penalties of $106.26 deposited during November, leaving a balance on Dec. 1 of $20,425.23 on the 1962 tax duplicate.

At the start of last night's meeting, board members observed a moment of silent prayer for Mr. Ben Kaye, high school art supervisor who died Sunday evening. After the meeting board members went to the Cannon Funeral Home to pay respects.

to avoid striking the car of the City Hospital employe. It was timed at 12:48 p. m.

A minor mishap at Dresden Ave. and W. 6th St. involved a southbound car operated by Velma A. McElhaney, 49, of Calcutta and a Potters Lumber Co. truck driven by John Blosser of Rogers R. D. 1, also headed south.

The woman, driving a car owned by Lester L. McElhaney of Calcutta, was halted in the middle lane on Dresden Ave., preparing to turn onto E. 6th St.

Blosser said he was passing on the right when he felt something and learned the left rear wheel on the truck had caught the right front fender of the McElhaney car.

A mishap on Broadway at Drury Ln. at 6:10 p. m. involved a 1962 club sedan driven by Richard A. McCready, 29, of 1603 Smithfield St. and a parked 1956 four - door owned by James W. Buckley, 945 Lisbon St., police said.

McCready told police he backed out of a parking space on Broadway and applied his brakes, but his car did not stop because of icy pavement and drifted into the parked auto, damaging the left front fender. McCready's car was undamaged, police said.

30 Attend Yule Dinner Of Chester Mothers

About 30 attended the annual Christmas dinner of the Chester Purple and Gold Band Mothers Monday night at the First United Presbyterian Church of Chester.

Mrs. Alvin Reed, president, gave the invocation.

Jack Campbell, band director, and his wife were guests. Mrs. Darwin Picklesimer was in charge of arrangements. Next meeting is Jan. 28.

Plane Catches Fire; 10 Bail Out, 1 Killed

WATKINS GLEN, N.Y. (AP)—A huge Air Force refueling plane caught fire in the sky over central New York Monday night, its crew of 10 bailed out, and the abandoned craft disappeared, apparently headed north on automatic pilot. One crewman was killed.

Four of the nine survivors suffered minor injuries.

The plane apparently crashed.

Hanoverton's Mayor Quits

HANOVERTON — Mayor Howard Hart, who has held the top elective post here nine years, announced his resignation Monday night at Council meeting.

The resignation was accepted by the councilmen present, Joseph Wilson, George Wilson, Arthur Kibler and Herman Zeigler.

Hart, 78, a former official of the Cleveland Trust Co. before moving to Hanoverton, served eight years as mayor before declining to run in 1959.

Henry Loudon, garage operator, replaced him in a write-in campaign in 1959 and served as mayor until November 1961 when Hart assumed the post again after an uncontested election.

The continuance of the hearing for temporarily suspended Marshal Donald Sheen, until Monday night, was announced. The hearing will be held at the American Legion Hall at 7:30.

Weather

VanHorne, executive head, said the back roads were drifted thick in many places, posing a school bus hazard. Classes will probably resume Wednesday.

Southern Local schools, dismissed early yesterday when ridge roads began to drift, remained closed today because of the wind-blown snow piles.

Jack Baker, executive head of Southern Local, said two buses became disabled in the Franklin area yesterday afternoon, one due to a mechanical breakdown and another when the vehicle became stuck in snow.

A Franklin Township truck-snow plow in the area took five of the youngsters home after the others were transported.

Baker said school may resume tomorrow if weather conditions permit.

Also closed were Fairfield-Waterford, West Branch and United Local, which was also shut down yesterday. Schools at Lisbon remained open. The Retarded Children's School at Elkton also was closed.

Drifting snow reduced traffic again to one way on the Route 7 hill north of Rogers this morning at times. The hazardous spot had been cleared for two lanes Monday.

A Beaver Local school bus taking pupils home from Rogers School became stuck in a snow-filled ditch along the Rogers - Clarkson Rd. yesterday afternoon for a while.

All main roads in the district were open but hazardous in places, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported, but many secondary roads remain snow covered, treacherous and in some cases were closed to traffic.

Officers said no reports of accidents were received overnight.

The State Highway Department crews at the Leetonia garage had it fairly easy last night after an almost continuous battle since the original storm last Thursday. The garage reported 8 above this morning.

The office of James Deluce, county superintendent, said only three patrol trucks were out last night, and with no further snow forecast the crews may get a rest.

In East Liverpool, street department shovel crews continued the job of clearing high mounds of frozen snow from business district parking places. The snow was being broken free of the pavement, then shoveled onto trucks to be hauled away.

Crews were working this morning on sections of E. 4th St. and Jackson St. Cindering also is continuing on secondary streets, Asst. Supt. Ed Bowersock said.

Crews from the Pughtown Garage of the West Virginia State Road Commission started work this morning on removing icy patches from primary roads in Hancock County by applying calcium chloride.

Today's schedule also called for shoveling snow from bridges, more cindering and plowing, and a general cleanup. All school bus routes were opened over the weekend and remain generally free of drifts. However, motorists are advised to use chains when driving on rural roads, the road headquarters reported.

The Wintersville State Highway Patrol near Steubenville said the highways in its area are clear although slippery in spots.

All main roads in Beaver County are nearly bare today, the Beaver County Division of the Pennsylvania State Highway Department at Rochester reported.

Secondary roads were reported as two - lane. Rural roads are open though some still are only one lane. Crews are now plowing back accumulations, which had been scraped to the sides, to make room for any additional snow.

At some spots, 30-foot snow banks tower on each side of the road.

The Carnegie barracks of the Pennsylvania State police reported Routes 22 and 30 clear and the police barracks near Beaver Falls reported roads slippery in spots.

Hunter Gets Buck

Roy Allison of Hookstown R. D. 1 shot a nine-point, 175-pound buck deer this morning at 8:20 on the farm of Mrs. Bertha Torrence on the Beacon Light Rd., across from where he resides near Hookstown.

200 Attend Yule Party Of Industry Firemen

About 200 attended the Christmas party and coverdish dinner of the Industry volunteer firemen, the auxiliary and families Sunday at the fire hall.

There was a gift exchange for children and Santa Claus presented favors to the children from the auxiliary.

Movies of last year's party were screened and movies were taken of this year's. A game prize was won by Carl Jarvis.

Mrs. Mike Rosepiler, Mrs. Charles Karowleski and Mrs. Lloyd McCoy were in charge.

The auxiliary will meet tonight at 8 in the fire hall.

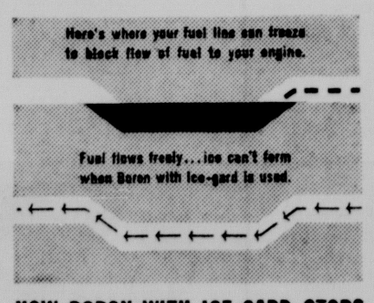
BORON® NOW HAS Ice-gard®
STOPS FUEL LINE FREEZE-UP BEFORE IT STOPS YOU!
Ice-proofs your fuel line automatically with every tankful!
No need for anti-icers in any Ohio weather! No extra cost!

FUEL LINE FREEZE-UP CAN STOP YOU COLD. When fuel line freeze-up happens, your car will not run until your fuel line thaws. Chances are you're stuck until the tow truck comes. Your very first tankful of Boron with Ice-gard protects you against a frozen fuel line. And continuous use of Boron with Ice-gard gives you positive protection even in Ohio's coldest weather.



HOW BORON WITH ICE-GARD STOPS FUEL LINE FREEZE-UP! In freezing weather, water condensed from the air in your gas tank can settle in the low points in your fuel line and freeze solid. Fuel can't get through to your engine. That stops you cold. But the special Ice-gard ingredient in Boron lowers the freezing point of water. Ice can't form so fuel flows freely!

BORON WITH ICE-GARD ELIMINATES NEED FOR ANTI-ICERS. For years drivers have protected themselves against a frozen fuel line by adding anti-icers to their gas tanks. Regular use of Boron with Ice-gard makes this unnecessary. Boron with Ice-gard ice-proofs your fuel line automatically. Protection is built-in so you always have it when you need it. And you get it at no extra cost.

Never Say It Isn't So

The notable thing in the stiff little tiff over Dean Acheson's remarks about Britain last week at West Point is the fact he spoke the truth. This is why Prime Minister Macmillan must deny it.

Britain, said the former secretary of state is over the hill as an independent power. The British Commonwealth is not an effectual force. This fact needs to be faced in any realistic appraisal of international pressure politics.

It is faced in all realistic appraisals. The British face it, to the extent that they know the truth. Others face it, to the extent that they know the truth. But the truth is well-concealed.

Among others who don't know the truth are many Americans. Like their British counterparts they continue to believe things that aren't so because they are told repeatedly that they are so.

For example, Nationalist China is an independent nation, the real China. For example, the United Nations is an association of like-minded countries banded together to preserve the peace.

THERE ARE many examples:

France and Britain are atomic powers because they conduct experiments with atomic energy; many people believe this.

West Germany and Japan have become staunch allies of the United States because these defeated enemies are in no position to be anything else.

A strategic retreat in Cuba is evidence that the Soviet Union has backed down in the face of insuperable odds against it.

Somebody knows what is happening to all foreign aid money and that what is happening must somehow be good because no one can prove it's bad.

U.S. defenses are sound because they are repeatedly assured that this is so, forgetting that they were assured of the same thing before Pearl Harbor.

THESE THINGS are not necessarily true. They are not taken as truth by people who know all the truth — only by people who accept as literal truth whatever they are told repeatedly by politicians.

The Soviet Union, we are told, is a great power, though it cannot feed itself. Red China is a great power, though it cannot feed itself and cannot make enough munitions to carry on a first-rate bow-and-arrow war.

Prime Minister Macmillan is expected to reassure Britons that they are as strong a nation as they ever were, though he himself knows this to be untrue, as does every knowledgeable person in the United Kingdom.

And in due time, Mr. Acheson even may have to apologize for saying as a private citizen what he never would have dared to say as a public official.

Hit 'Em Again!

Illegal operations in the Weirton area were the targets of the latest raids in Hancock County.

Such raids have been staged before and hopes have been high that a general cleanup was under way, only to be dashed by word that the raided clubs were back in business again in short order.

Time will tell whether the pattern is to be different this time.

We hope so. The raids should continue up and down the county until the raided get the message and fold their barbut tables and silently steal away.

'Equal Rights' Are Hollow Words

By DAVID LAWRENCE

"Equal rights for all" probably would get the highest percentage of public approval ever recorded in any Gallup Poll because theoretically everybody is for the principle. But, actually, nobody connected with government today really believes in the idea when dealing with the tax life of the nation.

David Lawrence

If, for instance, you are efficient, resourceful and enterprising, you pay considerably more taxes than if you are incompetent, inefficient and lazy.

If you give away your money when you are still living, you can avoid heavy taxes that otherwise your estate would have to pay when you die.

If you entertain someone at lunch who may buy goods or services from you, a deduction from taxes is authorized, but if you take a man out to lunch who might be able to help you locate a job, or even give you one, this isn't a business expense at all in the eyes of present-day law.

If you travel for your company on business, the company is entitled to tax deductions for your expenses, but if you travel every day 50 miles to and from your home in the suburbs and your office in the city, you do this at your own expense and get no tax deductions for it.

Nobody is justified in cheating the government by violating the tax laws, but there's a difference between evasion and avoidance. You can avoid taxes legally but you can't evade them legally.

IT MIGHT be thought that equality can be achieved merely by assuming that everybody is honest and by assuming, too, that the Treasury Department also is always honest when it writes tax regulations interpreting the law — though the courts for years have been struggling to find out when a regulation is really a fair interpretation of what Congress wrote into law.

But what is a fair tax law? Books galore have been written on the subject and many legislators have conscientiously struggled with the dilemma for decades. It may come as a surprise to the younger generation of today but before 1913 it wasn't constitutional to levy any federal income tax at all. Yet the nation made wonderful strides in the 137 years between 1776 and 1913. Immediately it will be argued that the population wasn't as big prior to 50 years ago as it is today, but it is hard to concede that unfairness becomes logical as the quantity of population grows. It's like saying the Constitution or the Ten Commandments are outmoded today and that equity and morality vanish when a nation gets to be over 100 million in population.

Yet the present system of taxation — federal, state and city — is inequitable and unfair to many people, and everyone who knows taxation concedes it.

"Equal rights for all" seems to disappear when you consider that, by living in one state, you avoid certain taxes which you would have to pay in another.

DISCRIMINATION is the accusation flung these days at any violation of equal rights, as in housing or in the use of public facilities. Much is heard about the equal protection of the law, but somehow there is no equal protection when taxes are levied.

The Constitution gives the Congress power to levy taxes, but it is doubtful whether a convincing argument can be made that the other provisions of the Constitution — including the one about due process of law have been at any time repealed just to allow taxes to be imposed arbitrarily and disproportionately.

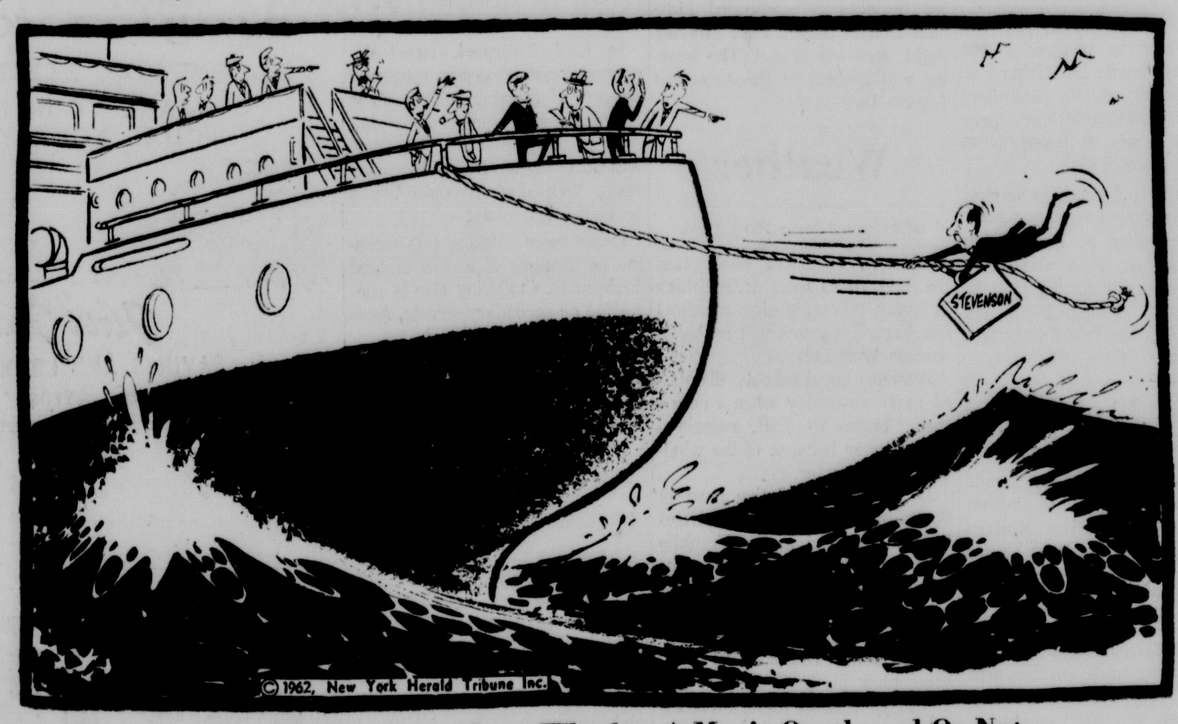
Another discrimination hardly ever discussed in the perspective of constitutional rights is the exemption from certain federal taxes enjoyed by citizens who own the bonds and notes of states and cities. Yet the federal government has to raise tax money from everybody to defend the military security of those same states against foreign enemies. Also, the income from interest on federal bonds is not exempt from taxation by the U.S. Treasury.

Tax reform is long overdue but the chances are it will continue to go untouched except by the politically minded who come forward with schemes for flagrant discrimination.

If by chance all exemptions, for example, were removed and taxes were levied not on incomes but as an assessment measuring the benefits received by the citizen and his family from the federal government everybody would have to pay something for himself and family. A scale of levies would cover government expenses without putting too much of a burden on anyone. A plan like this would come closer to equal taxes for all than any scheme used thus far.

THERE ISN'T a chance in the world that any equitable plan will ever be adopted because the only rule followed nowadays is plainly political. It can be summarized thus: Low taxes for more people and higher taxes for the enterprising and talented few. The majority do not create jobs or create sources of wealth. It is the minority who invents new methods and has the initiative to keep the economy going. They are compelled to be content, however, with whatever residue the government may choose to allocate to them from their earnings.

This system could anesthetize the economy some day but the politicians aren't as yet worried about that contingency so long as "deficit spending" is considered a virtue and "equal rights for all" is accepted as popular in everything else but taxation



Some Differences About Whether A Man's Overboard Or Not

This Could Be The Year

When the issue of wheat controls was voted on in 1962, it was a foregone conclusion that wheat farmers would muster the required 66.7 per cent majority.

Farmers invariably have voted to accept government controls by the necessary two-third margin. The wheat vote in 1962 would be no exception.

Yet the vote was only 68.4 per cent in favor of wheat controls this year. With a squeaker like this in the record, a political party would put on extra pressure the next time around.

That may be what the American Farm Bureau Federation intends to do. Its convention in Atlanta this week could prove historic. The bureau was critical of the compromise farm bill passed this year, especially of the wheat program in the bill.

IF THE FARM BUREAU puts its prestige behind a national program to persuade farmers to vote down wheat controls next summer, this basic commodity would go back to a free enterprise basis.

In a speech last month in North Dakota the assistant director of the bureau's commodity division, Dr. Warren Collins, said agriculture had to choose between farming by government proclamation and returning to free enterprise.

This is opposed to the view of both the National Grange and the National Farmers Union, though the latter has shown an interest in voluntary programs for commodities other than wheat.

But the significance lies in that ominous squeaker on wheat controls last summer. Apparently wheat farmers are losing some of their enthusiasm for controls. The fact is they never had a great deal of enthusiasm, as far as voting was concerned.

THE FARM BUREAU tried to change the law in 1962 to require at least one-third of all wheat farmers to vote as well as two-thirds of those voting to vote yes before wheat controls could be continued.

Defeat for the wheat control proposal next year would mean a sharp turning away from the supply-management principle of federal farm control.

Tough Sleddin'

Several district youngsters have been injured while riding sleds the last few days. And with continued cold weather forecast, the possibility is that others may be hurt.

It would be hoping for too much that such accidents could be eliminated completely. But by care, they could be held to a minimum.

Parents should caution their youngsters once more on the danger of wreckless sledding and drivers of autos should be extra careful during the winter months. A streaking sled is hard to see in the dark.

'Men Of Steel' Seek Labor Peace

By VICTOR RIESEL

PITTSBURGH

Crises have a pleasant habit of slipping out of the big black headlines until the next time. Many folks forget that just eight months ago it was the "Battle of Steel" which kept the lights and tempers burning most of the night in the White House.

Victor Riesel

Some of those who have not forgotten and who don't want a next time, come frequently to a suite of offices in the Frick building at Pittsburgh. These are the headquarters of something called the Human Relations Committee.

This Human Relations Committee is made up of "men of steel" —leaders of the United Steelworkers and the steel corporations.

THEY WANT to head off a new summer. So the Human Relations group is meeting and working on the sensitive problems now, some six months before the union reopens its famous contract with a set of new demands.

What do they—and their many subcommittees — discuss? Should there be steelworkers on overtime while others are laid off? Should the steel companies "contract out" their construction and other such work while steel hands are jobless? Also extending vacations, incentives.

This summer the union can ask for more money, higher pensions increased welfare and other types of insurance.

There is no doubt that such demands would increase costs. But can the industry stand it? Can the union stand it? Increased costs might mean more layoffs, and the union membership has come down to some 900,000 from 1.21 million in the last seven years.

There's another problem. Both sides know it well. How can American industry meet foreign competition by increasing costs?

I researched some vital statistics in Europe this summer. In Germany I found that the steel workers in the smoky Ruhr earn about $44 for a 44-hour week—or about four marks an hour, meaning one dollar.

THE AMERICAN Iron and Steel Institute reported the other day that "the payroll cost per hour" for a U.S. steel worker is $3.66. For a 4-hour week this comes to $146.40. I don't include the fringe costs either here or in Germany, just the cash cost.

That's just about $100 a week difference.

Our steel workers are mighty skilled. They whip out fine metal. But so do the Germans. And the Japanese. And the British. They're tough competitors.

But the problem's not steel's alone. Look at the over-all average wage for Britain. The latest labor ministry report from London has the average weekly manufacturing wage at $43.79.

The other day I phoned the office of Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz for the average U.S. weekly industrial wage. Ours was $97.75 for August of this year. That's more than a $50 a-week difference. Without fringes.

LOOK AT the auto business. The British Labor Ministry reports the average weekly wage for "motor vehicle workers" at $55.97. Match this with the U.S. Labor Department's figure of $127.20 for August '62. Roughly that's better than a $70-a-week difference.

British "engineers", described to me as comparable to our plant technicians, earned an average of $45.30 a week in November. It's not quite possible to draw an American average in this field for a similar period. But I was told by the Labor Department that in many areas our average tops the British by more than $100 a week.

Just look at the American construction trades. Our Labor Department experts averaged the wages of seven major building trades in 100 cities. This was for the third quarter of '62. The hourly wage came to a penny less than $4 an hour—or just about $160 for a 40-hour-week.

Most certainly it's a problem. Hundreds of American companies are solving it by building and producing in Europe and other, lower-wage areas. If this trend continues the consequence here will be fewer jobs.

What we appear to need are more Human Relations Committees, more understanding, more unity, fewer crises. Otherwise our United States some day might find itself the junior partner of the new united states of Europe.

Unsettled Question

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Still unsettled, like a lingering sore, is the question: Who revealed what went on when President Kennedy decided on a showdown with Russia over its missiles in Cuba?

He acted after getting the views of his National Security Council in a highly secret session. The council members are among the most important men in government.

This week, the Columbia Broadcasting System and Life, Time and Newsweek magazines said Kennedy himself threw open government files to two Saturday Evening Post reporters, one of them a close, personal friend, to prepare a chronology on what happened. It was quite a chronology.

Last week the Post came out with a story on what happened and who said what. It was too well documented, too full of direct and indirect quotes, to have been dreamed up.

The most super-secret outfit in the government is the Central Intelligence Agency. The Post even quoted CIA men, directly and indirectly, including a telephone conversation with McGeorge Bundy, Kennedy's special assistant. And Monday night a CBS correspondent said Bundy supplied much of the material for the Post article.

Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, said the Life story pointing the finger at the President is "absolutely and completely without foundation."

But there has been no indication from the White House that Kennedy has ordered an investigation of the leak or intends to do anything about it. And meanwhile the Washington Evening Star backs up the Life story. It said Monday:

"Competent sources told the Star that Mr. Kennedy did tell his advisers to cooperate (with the Post reporters) and that some of them refused to do so."

The Star said Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara was one who refused.

The President will be asked about all this at his news conference Wednesday. Unless he discloses more than the White House has been willing to so far, the whole subject will remain a sore.

This basic issue—who talked to reporters about what happened at the secret council meeting?—got lost sight of for a while in the uproar caused by what the Post said was Adlai Stevenson's role in the council session.

The Post quoted a "non-admiring official" as saying Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, "wanted a Munich" by making concessions to the Russians instead of insisting on a showdown.

If left unanswered, this statement would seem to undercut Stevenson's position in the Kennedy administration and at the United Nations. Stevenson promptly and repeatedly denied the Post account. He said his view was the opposite.

Kennedy finally, but after some days, let it be known that Stevenson had backed his decision to have a showdown. But at no time has Kennedy either criticized the Post story or denied its accuracy.

Kennedy did not say that Stevenson had not first proposed concessions to Russia. That Stevenson supported Kennedy's decision, once it was made, can be taken for granted. His usefulness would be ended if he didn't.

Kennedy called on his council to get the members' advice. It has to be assumed that each would give his most honest advice, even if it disagreed with that of everyone else in the room.

It is out of the different opinions, and the conflict of opinions, that the President could reach a decision.

Even if Stevenson at first had advised concessions, this should hardly justify the public belittling inflicted upon him by the "non-admiring official" in the Post article.

But, just because there was a leak on what happened and because Stevenson was belittled, two serious questions are left:

1. The next time there is a crisis and Kennedy calls his council into very secret session, will the events there be piped out to the public later? If so, then what meaning does secrecy have?

2. After the Post disclosures—particularly after what happened to Stevenson—will council members in the future be willing to give a frank opinion since they can now fear, if the opinion is unpopular, it will be leaked?

The common field mouse seldom lives more than a year. Since the tiny creature must devour its own weight in grass and seeds every day, it wears itself out in the never - ending hunt for food. The mouse also is the prey of many larger animals and birds.

An Education In Trust

India's Prime Minister Nehru is receiving a painful education on the subject of misplaced trust. The United States would do well to draw a lesson of its own from his plight.

The man who once placed unblinking faith in a defense minister who did little more than blink at the Communist menace has had his trust betrayed again along the disputed northeast frontier.

The Red Chinese, he has told his Parliament, broke their own cease-fire shortly after it went into effect.

If this surprises Nehru, it would appear he hasn't learned very rapidly in his hard-knocks course on the dangers of blind trust.

And if the United States sees in India any consolation from a Communist split that could put the West and Russia in the same camp against a common foe, it had better hark to its own homework.

The Berlin map might be a good place to start. It's easier to read since someone built a wall there.

In Front Of A Fire

Attention, ladies — as they say in the ads.

Is Christmas bugging you?

Do you have a frantic feeling?

Are you tossing and turning, wondering if you can get everything done before Dec. 25?

Have you turned Christmas into a nightmare by making too much of what should have been preserved as a simple occasion?

Are you tackling enough things for three women your size and making a botch of half of them?

If some member of your family reads this aloud, will you identify yourself with the description suggested in these questions?

Come to think of it, are you lousing up Christmas for the other members of your family by tying yourself in phrenetic knots every December?

Sure you are.

What can you do about it, you want to know.

This is what you can do about it:

Santa Claus doesn't give two whoops in his knapsack whether the curtains have been washed; he has no time to snoop through the house looking for cobwebs and neither does anyone else.

The Christmas card list has been growing like a toadstool since the first year you were married and what started out to be a pleasure has turned into a pain. Get rid of half of them and maybe they'll get rid of you too.

What would have happened to the dozens of Christmas cookies the last three years if it hadn't been for hungry dogs who thought they were dog biscuits and didn't expect them to be more than nominally edible in the first place?

Why don't you face up to it — that if 80 per cent of all the housekeeping chores you crowd into December were omitted no one would be the wiser?

As for Christmas shopping, why don't you face up to that too?

You have become the patsy for a lot of people capable of working a willing horse to death. You are not only overdoing your own shopping but making up for the laziness of others.

Moreover, you have made no allowance for things that unfailingly happen in December, such as bad weather, head colds, broken legs, torpor after too much fresh air and human inclination to sleep a lot during the solstice.

So sit down quietly, girlie, and start to make Christmas as enjoyable as it's supposed to be, instead of imitating a covey of whirling dervishes dancing barefoot on hot coals.

You're supposed to sit in front of a fire and dream — remember?

If that fellow you married had seen you then as you are now, he would have been scared away.

Before you can have a Merry Christmas, you must feel like laughing.

"Equal rights for all" seems to disappear when you consider that, by living in one state, you avoid certain taxes which you would have to pay in another.

DISCRIMINATION is the accusation flung these days at any violation of equal rights, as in housing or in the use of public facilities. Much is heard about the equal protection of the law, but somehow there is no equal protection when taxes are levied.

The Constitution gives the Congress power to levy taxes, but it is doubtful whether a convincing argument can be made that the other provisions of the Constitution — including the one about due process of law have been at any time repealed just to allow taxes to be imposed arbitrarily and disproportionately.

Another discrimination hardly ever discussed in the perspective of constitutional rights is the exemption from certain federal taxes enjoyed by citizens who own the bonds and notes of states and cities. Yet the federal government has to raise tax money from everybody to defend the military security of those same states against foreign enemies. Also, the income from interest on federal bonds is not exempt from taxation by the U.S. Treasury.

Tax reform is long overdue but the chances are it will continue to go untouched except by the politically minded who come forward with schemes for flagrant discrimination.

If by chance all exemptions, for example, were removed and taxes were levied not on incomes but as an assessment measuring the benefits received by the citizen and his family from the federal government everybody would have to pay something for himself and family. A scale of levies would cover government expenses without putting too much of a burden on anyone. A plan like this would come closer to equal taxes for all than any scheme used thus far.

THERE ISN'T a chance in the world that any equitable plan will ever be adopted because the only rule followed nowadays is plainly political. It can be summarized thus: Low taxes for more people and higher taxes for the enterprising and talented few. The majority do not create jobs or create sources of wealth. It is the minority who invents new methods and has the initiative to keep the economy going. They are compelled to be content, however, with whatever residue the government may choose to allocate to them from their earnings.

This system could anesthetize the economy some day but the politicians aren't as yet worried about that contingency so long as "deficit spending" is considered a virtue and "equal rights for all" is accepted as popular in everything else but taxation

'Men Of Steel' Seek Labor Peace

PITTSBURGH

Crises have a pleasant habit of slipping out of the big black headlines until the next time. Many folks forget that just eight months ago it was the "Battle of Steel" which kept the lights and tempers burning most of the night in the White House.

Victor Riesel

Some of those who have not forgotten and who don't want a next time, come frequently to a suite of offices in the Frick building at Pittsburgh. These are the headquarters of something called the Human Relations Committee.

This Human Relations Committee is made up of "men of steel" —leaders of the United Steelworkers and the steel corporations.

THEY WANT to head off a new summer. So the Human Relations group is meeting and working on the sensitive problems now, some six months before the union reopens its famous contract with a set of new demands.

What do they—and their many subcommittees — discuss? Should there be steelworkers on overtime while others are laid off? Should the steel companies "contract out" their construction and other such work while steel hands are jobless? Also extending vacations, incentives.

This summer the union can ask for more money, higher pensions increased welfare and other types of insurance.

There is no doubt that such demands would increase costs. But can the industry stand it? Can the union stand it? Increased costs might mean more layoffs, and the union membership has come down to some 900,000 from 1.21 million in the last seven years.

There's another problem. Both sides know it well. How can American industry meet foreign competition by increasing costs?

I researched some vital statistics in Europe this summer. In Germany I found that the steel workers in the smoky Ruhr earn about $44 for a 44-hour week—or about four marks an hour, meaning one dollar.

THE AMERICAN Iron and Steel Institute reported the other day that "the payroll cost per hour" for a U.S. steel worker is $3.66. For a 4-hour week this comes to $146.40. I don't include the fringe costs either here or in Germany, just the cash cost.

That's just about $100 a week difference.

Our steel workers are mighty skilled. They whip out fine metal. But so do the Germans. And the Japanese. And the British. They're tough competitors.

But the problem's not steel's alone. Look at the over-all average wage for Britain. The latest labor ministry report from London has the average weekly manufacturing wage at $43.79.

The other day I phoned the office of Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz for the average U.S. weekly industrial wage. Ours was $97.75 for August of this year. That's more than a $50 a-week difference. Without fringes.

LOOK AT the auto business. The British Labor Ministry reports the average weekly wage for "motor vehicle workers" at $55.97. Match this with the U.S. Labor Department's figure of $127.20 for August '62. Roughly that's better than a $70-a-week difference.

British "engineers", described to me as comparable to our plant technicians, earned an average of $45.30 a week in November. It's not quite possible to draw an American average in this field for a similar period. But I was told by the Labor Department that in many areas our average tops the British by more than $100 a week.

Just look at the American construction trades. Our Labor Department experts averaged the wages of seven major building trades in 100 cities. This was for the third quarter of '62. The hourly wage came to a penny less than $4 an hour—or just about $160 for a 40-hour-week.

Most certainly it's a problem. Hundreds of American companies are solving it by building and producing in Europe and other, lower-wage areas. If this trend continues the consequence here will be fewer jobs.

What we appear to need are more Human Relations Committees, more understanding, more unity, fewer crises. Otherwise our United States some day might find itself the junior partner of the new united states of Europe.

Unsettled Question

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Still unsettled, like a lingering sore, is the question: Who revealed what went on when President Kennedy decided on a showdown with Russia over its missiles in Cuba?

He acted after getting the views of his National Security Council in a highly secret session. The council members are among the most important men in government.

This week, the Columbia Broadcasting System and Life, Time and Newsweek magazines said Kennedy himself threw open government files to two Saturday Evening Post reporters, one of them a close, personal friend, to prepare a chronology on what happened. It was quite a chronology.

Last week the Post came out with a story on what happened and who said what. It was too well documented, too full of direct and indirect quotes, to have been dreamed up.

The most super-secret outfit in the government is the Central Intelligence Agency. The Post even quoted CIA men, directly and indirectly, including a telephone conversation with McGeorge Bundy, Kennedy's special assistant. And Monday night a CBS correspondent said Bundy supplied much of the material for the Post article.

Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, said the Life story pointing the finger at the President is "absolutely and completely without foundation."

But there has been no indication from the White House that Kennedy has ordered an investigation of the leak or intends to do anything about it. And meanwhile the Washington Evening Star backs up the Life story. It said Monday:

"Competent sources told the Star that Mr. Kennedy did tell his advisers to cooperate (with the Post reporters) and that some of them refused to do so."

The Star said Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara was one who refused.

The President will be asked about all this at his news conference Wednesday. Unless he discloses more than the White House has been willing to so far, the whole subject will remain a sore.

This basic issue—who talked to reporters about what happened at the secret council meeting?—got lost sight of for a while in the uproar caused by what the Post said was Adlai Stevenson's role in the council session.

The Post quoted a "non-admiring official" as saying Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, "wanted a Munich" by making concessions to the Russians instead of insisting on a showdown.

If left unanswered, this statement would seem to undercut Stevenson's position in the Kennedy administration and at the United Nations. Stevenson promptly and repeatedly denied the Post account. He said his view was the opposite.

Kennedy finally, but after some days, let it be known that Stevenson had backed his decision to have a showdown. But at no time has Kennedy either criticized the Post story or denied its accuracy.

Kennedy did not say that Stevenson had not first proposed concessions to Russia. That Stevenson supported Kennedy's decision, once it was made, can be taken for granted. His usefulness would be ended if he didn't.

Kennedy called on his council to get the members' advice. It has to be assumed that each would give his most honest advice, even if it disagreed with that of everyone else in the room.

It is out of the different opinions, and the conflict of opinions, that the President could reach a decision.

Even if Stevenson at first had advised concessions, this should hardly justify the public belittling inflicted upon him by the "non-admiring official" in the Post article.

But, just because there was a leak on what happened and because Stevenson was belittled, two serious questions are left:

1. The next time there is a crisis and Kennedy calls his council into very secret session, will the events there be piped out to the public later? If so, then what meaning does secrecy have?

2. After the Post disclosures—particularly after what happened to Stevenson—will council members in the future be willing to give a frank opinion since they can now fear, if the opinion is unpopular, it will be leaked?

The common field mouse seldom lives more than a year. Since the tiny creature must devour its own weight in grass and seeds every day, it wears itself out in the never - ending hunt for food. The mouse also is the prey of many larger animals and birds.

Graduation Dates Set For Beaver's Seniors

Commencement for some 100 Beaver Local High School seniors was officially scheduled for May 29 by the Board of Education at a meeting Monday night.

Baccalaureate will be held May 26, according to the graduation plans.

The board received the proposed course on comparison of Communism and Democracy due to be presented as part of the Problems of Democracy course in the spring as recommended by the county system. Board members will study the course and take official action at the next meeting Jan. 7.

Mrs. Jeannette Walters was appointed interim dean of girls during the illness of Miss Helen Ryan, dean, of St. Clair Ave.

The board also accepted the tax rates and amounts set by the County Budget Commission for the district. The new valuation under the recent reappraisal will be $15,142,096, with a tax rate of 20.7 mills. The present valuation is $11,839,266 with a rate of 25 mills.

The list of substitute help for cafeteria aides was revised and brought up-to-date.

After a discussion on sick leave for teachers, the board reaffirmed the present policy on sick leave and recommended that no time off be permitted for personal reasons without accompanying loss of pay.

The board also renewed the boiler and machinery insurance policy of the McNutt Agency for all schools, approved payment to the Ohio Power Co. of bills for electricity for traffic caution signals installed last month near the Calcutta and West Point schools, and authorized transfer of accrued interest on inactive funds for the building fund.

Purchase of fuel oil for the new heating system at the Public School addition was authorized from Cal Carney, present gas supplier. Bids will be sought for the supply next year.

The board also approved the attendance of Howard Johnson of Oak Grove at the School for the Handicapped at Youngstown. A bus driver certificate was authorized for Leslie Beagle of Lisbon St. Ext.

Mrs. Eula Holt of Calcutta was granted permission to use the high school music room for a rare coin sale Dec. 15.

The board authorized the attendance of Harry Greenwood, clerk, to a workshop of the Ohio School Boards business officials Feb. 6-8 at Columbus.

The board will reorganize Jan. 7.

Safety

Safety-Service Director Robert Owen and Police Chief Americo Radeschi.

Owen advised the commission he will issue orders that will open up two-hour meterless parking on the west side of Market St. and the east side of Dresden Ave., two stretches where parking formerly was banned. The order is effective immediately.

The director said his temporary order will make available 55 more parking spaces during the Christmas shopping rush. The city row is in the process of installing meters on Market between 3rd St. and 5th St. and Dresden from the Diamond to W. 9th St. Standards have been installed, but the meters have not been delivered from the factory.

"No Parking" signs along the stretch will be removed and replaced with placards listing the two-hour limit, the director said.

Parking was banned on both stretches for many years because Market and Dresden formed part of Route 30's path through the city. The opening of the freeway a few weeks ago took the federal route out of the heart of the city and obviated the need for the parking regulation.

In connection with the change, the director asked motorists to be careful not to park too close to intersections, impeding traffic and blocking drivers' view of oncoming traffic.

Also in connection with the freeway opening, the commission discussed a proposal to ban right turns off E. 5th St. onto the Diamond, but reached no decision. The members agreed the turns cause one of the major bottlenecks in business area traffic.

They recalled that previous efforts to eliminate the turns were frustrated because the ruling would have denied access to the federal route for westbound traffic on E. 5th.

The commission went on record in favor of preparation of a master plan for future development of East Liverpool. The Junior Chamber of Commerce recommended to Council Dec. 3 that it proceed with steps to authorize preparation of a plan. The commission pointed out a master plan probably would include a study of local traffic and parking problems.

There was a brief discussion of the hazard created on Pennsylvania Ave. at Park Way by a "curb lane" that allows westbound Pennsylvania Ave. traffic to pass other autos on the right in preparing to turn onto Park Way. However, no action was taken.

There also was discussion of a proposal to allow only upgrade traffic on E. 4th St. near the intersection with Pennsylvania Ave. No decision was reached, but Heasley said he will confer with Councilman Kenneth C. Berg, in whose ward the intersection lies, and with affected E. 4th St. residents.

Owen told the commission he has received a letter from a Sprucevale woman suggesting that the city reverse the stop sign at Walnut and St. Clair Ave., giving the right-of-way to cars headed upgrade on Walnut and requiring St. Clair traffic to halt.

The woman, who said she spoke for a group of Sprucevale residents, pointed out the difficulty in getting a car moving again after it is halted on the grade. Owen said he could not recommend adoption of the proposal "because St. Clair traffic outnumbers Walnut travel 10 or 20 to one."

The commission agreed its Jan. 14 meeting will convene at 8 p.m.

for the annual December Cabinet-level meeting of the 15-nation North Atlantic Council.

Rusk planned individual meetings there with Allied foreign ministers and said much of the discussion in the council sessions, opening Thursday, would be concerned with "the world situation," which includes Cuba, the India-Red China conflict and the crisis in relations between Red China and Russia.

In response to questions, Rusk appeared to take issue with former Secretary of State Dean Acheson, who said recently that Britain had ceased to be a world power and had not yet found a new role. Rusk called Britain "one of the really great powers in this Atlantic community."

At the outset of the news conference, Rusk discounted the possibility of any significant developments at the NATO meeting.

As for Cuba, Rusk said that the U.S. government was informed that Soviet forces in Cuba for the protection of nuclear weapon bases would be withdrawn in due course.

This pledge—which was disclosed by President Kennedy at a news conference Nov. 20—was made by Premier Khrushchev in a letter to Kennedy that day.

Air Lines Is Denied Request For Flight

WASHINGTON (AP)—Delta Air Lines has been denied a request to operate a Columbus - Dayton-Cincinnati night coach flight to connect with its jet service between Detroit, Cincinnati and Florida.

Delta applied to the Civil Aeronautics Board for the nightly single round trip flight after it said Lake Central Airlines failed to respond to its request for the needed connecting service.

Six applications have been filed so far for an examination the Municipal Civil Service Commission will conduct Dec. 27 to fill a vacant lieutenant's post in the police department.

The deadline for applications is Wednesday at 4 p. m. The commission is expected to arrange a meeting to screen the applications, possibly tomorrow night.

Any patrolman who has completed 24 months' service is eligible to apply. Nine officers took an exam for the same post Sept. 6, but none scored a passing grade.

Legion Post Enrolls 85 In Past 2 Weeks

Eighty-five new members have been enrolled in American Legion Post 374 in the last two weeks, John Long, first vice commander, reported at the meeting Monday night.

Routine business was transacted with James Cregar, commander, presiding. The post received a letter from Boys Town thanking it for its contribution.

Next meeting will be Monday at 8 p. m.

Man Gets Out Of Jail With Payment Of Fine

Leroy Dunham, 676 Lincoln Ave., paid the last $107.50 due on penalties totaling $140 and was released from City Jail Monday, a few hours after he had been fined by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on charges of intoxication and striking his wife.

Judge Chertoff had expressed the hope Dunham would be unable to pay the fine and would be required to "lay it out" in jail. The Lincoln Ave. man was arrested Saturday night after a domestic disturbance in which his wife, Doris, was beaten severely, police said.

Dunham previously has posted a $32.50 bond, which covered a fine of $25 and costs for intoxication. The $107.50 represented payment of a fine of $100 and costs for striking his wife.

When a recipe calls for "a dash," add less than one - eighth teaspoon.

Civil Actions Ask $76,500

Two civil suits totaling $76,500 have been filed in Hancock County Circuit Court in New Cumberland, naming county residents as defendants.

C. C. Haynes and his wife, Mrs. Ruth Haynes, of Grant St., Newell are defendants in a $25,000 suit filed by Dwight Trushel of Weirton, administrator of the estate of the late James R. Burnham of Weirton.

The action alleges Mrs. Haynes was "negligent" in operating her husband's car that was involved in a traffic collision with another driven by Burnham Dec. 3, 1961, at the junction of State Route 2 and Route 30 near Chester.

Guy C. Chamberlain, maintenance supervisor of the Hancock County Board of Education, is defendant in a $51,500 suit filed by Weirton residents in connection with a traffic accident.

The suit was filed by Dorothy Johnson, 13, a minor, by her father, Howard Johnson, and claims Chamberlain was "negligent" in operating a board - owned station wagon that allegedly struck the child March 10 on Main St. in Weirton.

Johnson asks damages of $50,000 and also $1,500 for medical expenses.

Standoff, Court Says As 2 Show Black Eyes

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff decided today it was a Mexican standoff when both the defendant and the complaining witness in an assault case appeared before him with black eyes.

Thomas Sullivan Jr., 770 Dresden Ave., was charged with striking Harold A. Seevers, 206 W. Church Ln., in a struggle last Friday. Sullivan testified Seevers had been keeping company with Mrs. Sullivan. Seevers denied the allegation.

Looking at the pair of black eyes, the judge said: "It appears you both got hit. The court will leave it that way. Case dismissed."

Dear Heloise: Can you tell me how to remove the shine from the seat of a skirt?

LORAINE BROSN.

-:-

DEAR LORAINE: As I do not know exactly what type of material or blend you have in your skirt, I will give you the best answer I can think of after having tried everything myself.

Dip a terry cloth wash cloth in straight vinegar. Most people use white vinegar but I have never found any difference myself.

Wring the terry cloth out thoroughly. Fold this about double thickness.

Now, rub the shine on your "seat" in both directions up and down and crosswise. Soon . . . you should see all of the shine disappear.

Allow this to dry while still on your ironing board. The vinegar odor will leave and your shine should all be gone. It is not necessary to press this. Pressing sometimes puts that shine right back in if you're not careful.

This procedure is especially good on men's wool and gabardine suits where the pressers have caused a little shine around the edge of the collar.

And . . . don't get the cloth too wet!

Love,

DEAR HELOISE: I just discovered a "secret" as to why one burner on my gas stove would not throw enough heat and it took so long before it would burn when turned on. It was stopped up.

I took a brush (which I ordinarily use for cleaning the stem of my percolator) and pushed it through the small pipe that leads from the burner to the pilot light. I did this several times and presto! It works wonderfully and there is no trouble with it anymore.

DEAR HELOISE: I make canned and frozen vegetables taste like those grandmother used to make and nearly as good as the fresh ones we used to pick out of our garden if I grate a quarter of a small onion and add it and a dash of sugar and salt to the water in which I boil all frozen and canned vegetables.

To get back to the old manny cookin', did you know that when you use salt in vegetables, you should also use a pinch of sugar, too?

When I use canned tomatoes, I always—depending on the size of the can of tomatoes—add at least a level teaspoon of sugar with them as I find it cuts the acid taste of the canned tomatoes!

I'm from the South, Heloise. This is the answer to good eatin'.

Thanks. I tried this on canned green beans. Wonderful!!

DEAR HELOISE: Sometimes when we are ironing or pressing dacron or synthetic fabrics and the iron accidentally gets too hot so that the fabric adheres to the iron:

To remove this from the iron, let the iron cool until it is very cold and lift this off of the iron with a razor blade and it will peel off in chunks.

MRS. WOODHALL.

DEAR HELOISE: When peeling garlic buds, just slice off a small amount from each end of the bud itself and the peel will come off easily.

M.M.N

DEAR HELOISE: My suggestion for those who ask for the proper method of cleaning kid gloves is: Because many types of gloves are washable but require special handling — such as kid or doeskin — my suggestion is to ask for the correct washing instructions when you buy the gloves at your local store.

AEC Plans New Nuclear Blast As Peace Bomb Test

CARLSBAD, N.M. (AP) — On the first anniversary of the first nuclear "peace bomb" explosion the Atomic Energy Commission is looking forward to another and larger detonation in the same area.

One year ago Monday the AEC detonated a three-kiloton "peace bomb" in a salt formation 1,200 feet beneath the rolling plains of southeastern New Mexico.

The AEC today opened the Project Gnome cavern to a group of U.S. newsmen and photographers in the first public inspection of the cavity.

At a briefing Sunday night, the AEC explained details of Project Coach which, it is hoped, will exploit the isotopes research started in Gnome. A date for the Coach explosion has not been set.

Multiple neutron capture processes will be studied in Project Coach, the AEC said.

"The basic idea of Plowshare is that the nuclear explosive is a very large source of energy," said John S. Kelly, director of the AEC's peaceful nuclear explosives division in Washington.

Both Gnome and Coach are part of the AEC's Plowshare program, designed to find peaceful uses for nuclear explosives.

Cincinnati Reports Major Crimes Hike

CINCINNATI (AP)—Cincinnati seems to be headed for its worst major crime year since 1937.

This was the gloomy forecast Monday by Martin P. Geygan, assistant superintendent of police records, as he reported an increase in all types of major crime in November. He said the crime rate for the first 11 months this year has been 14.6 per cent greater than in 1961.

Newsman Dies At 67

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Robert H. Purcell, 67, veteran newspaperman, died Sunday of cancer. He started as a reporter in 1912 for the St. Paul (Minn.) Pioneer Press and later worked for newspapers in Boston, Chicago, Minneapolis, Minn., and San Francisco and for The Associated Press in Minneapolis.

Elkton Boy Scout Auxiliary Plans Meeting For Tonight

The Women's Auxiliary of Elkton Boy Scout Troop 108 will meet tonight with Mrs. Lloyd Neville. Mrs. Ray Moore, president, will be in charge.

A benefit supper for Robert Helfrich, principal at the Elkton School, will be held Saturday from 4:30 to 8 p. m. at the school. Weather conditions forced postponement of the supper last week. Helfrich is convalescing after an operation at Chicago last month.

The WSCS of the Methodist Church will prepare and serve the annual Christmas dinner of the employes of the Dickey Feed Mill of Lisbon Friday night at 6:30 at the Elkton School. The event was postponed from last week.

Mrs. Donald Dickey entertained at a family dinner Sunday in honor of the birthday anniversary of her daughter, Mrs. Myron McCammon. Among guests were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dickey of Lisbon.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Neville entertained their card club Saturday night with a coverdish dinner. Prizes at 500 were won by Mrs. Ralph Moore, William Doll, George Reeder and Mrs. William Doll. Sunday guests of the Nevilles were Mr. and Mrs. James Comp of Dorsett.

Homeroom mothers will hold a Christmas party for eighth grade students at the Beaver Local Public School Friday night.

President's Aide Is Injected Into Stevenson Issue

NEW YORK (AP)—The name of McGeorge Bundy, special presidential assistant for national security affairs, has been injected into the controversy over a magazine article dealing with Adlai E. Stevenson's position in the Cuban crisis.

The Columbia Broadcasting System said Monday night that Bundy supplied two Saturday Evening Post writers with information for last week's magazine article.

The broadcast report also said President Kennedy personally cleared the way for writers Charles Bartlett and Stewart Alsop to get the information about Cuban crisis deliberations in a National Security Council meeting attended by U.N. Ambassador Stevenson.

That latter assertion also was reported Monday by Time and Newsweek magazines, one day after Life magazine said the same thing. The Life report was termed "absolutely and completely without foundation" by the White House press secretary, Pierre Salinger.

Bundy could not be reached immediately in Washington for comment on the CBS report.

Time and Newsweek—as Life had done—challenged the Saturday Evening Post article which indicated that Stevenson favored a policy of appeasement in the Cuban crisis. The U.N. ambassador and the White House have denied that he supported that approach.

Midland Firemen To Decorate Park

Erection of Christmas decorations in Lincoln Park was to start today, according to plans discussed by Midland volunteer fire company No. 1 Monday night.

Mike Borato will be in charge, assisted by other firemen as they are available. Firemen will decorate the band shell at the park this year and in future years will add more decorations.

They hope to turn on the decorations next week.

It was announced that Santa Claus will visit firemen's homes Sunday, Dec. 23, and distribute gifts.

Acting Fire Chief Vincent D'Itri reported that additional fire equipment has been received, including four walkie-talkies and a water connection for hoses. He said the radios, to be used to coordinate firemen in fighting a fire or other emergency, will be for each of the fire officers and the truck engineer.

Sam Zuppe, vice president, presided in the absence of Tony Monaco, president. Next meeting is Jan. 14. Firemen meet in their quarters in the Borough Building.

Arraignment Delayed In Closing Law Case

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP)—Arraignment of Anthony Bush, operator of the Sun 'n Fun Discount Center on Ohio 46 south of here, on a charge of violating Ohio's Sunday closing law has been continued in Municipal Court to Dec. 27.

Bush was cited after Ashtabula County Sheriff's deputies said they had made purchases at the store on Sunday, Dec. 2, as evidence.

Ohio Boy, 3, Dies In 'Parachute Jump'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A "parachute jump" from a hassock with a bathing cap for a helmet was fatal Monday night to 3-year-old David Craig White.

The boy's father, Donald, said his son had been watching a television program when he began making his jumps. At first the boy was barehead but then he found a bathing cap and would pull it down before he jumped.

White said he was in another room when David apparently pulled the cap over his face and jumped. He became tangled in the cap and when the father returned to the room, the boy was unconscious.

White said he attempted to revive the youngster but failed. Doctors said David suffocated.

A benefit supper for Robert Helfrich, principal at the Elkton School, will be held Saturday from 4:30 to 8 p. m. at the school. Weather conditions forced postponement of the supper last week. Helfrich is convalescing after an operation at Chicago last month.

The WSCS of the Methodist Church will prepare and serve the annual Christmas dinner of the employes of the Dickey Feed Mill of Lisbon Friday night at 6:30 at the Elkton School. The event was postponed from last week.

Mrs. Donald Dickey entertained at a family dinner Sunday in honor of the birthday anniversary of her daughter, Mrs. Myron McCammon. Among guests were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dickey of Lisbon.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Neville entertained their card club Saturday night with a coverdish dinner. Prizes at 500 were won by Mrs. Ralph Moore, William Doll, George Reeder and Mrs. William Doll. Sunday guests of the Nevilles were Mr. and Mrs. James Comp of Dorsett.

Homeroom mothers will hold a Christmas party for eighth grade students at the Beaver Local Public School Friday night.

President's Aide Is Injected Into Stevenson Issue

NEW YORK (AP)—The name of McGeorge Bundy, special presidential assistant for national security affairs, has been injected into the controversy over a magazine article dealing with Adlai E. Stevenson's position in the Cuban crisis.

The Columbia Broadcasting System said Monday night that Bundy supplied two Saturday Evening Post writers with information for last week's magazine article.

The broadcast report also said President Kennedy personally cleared the way for writers Charles Bartlett and Stewart Alsop to get the information about Cuban crisis deliberations in a National Security Council meeting attended by U.N. Ambassador Stevenson.

That latter assertion also was reported Monday by Time and Newsweek magazines, one day after Life magazine said the same thing. The Life report was termed "absolutely and completely without foundation" by the White House press secretary, Pierre Salinger.

Bundy could not be reached immediately in Washington for comment on the CBS report.

Time and Newsweek—as Life had done—challenged the Saturday Evening Post article which indicated that Stevenson favored a policy of appeasement in the Cuban crisis. The U.N. ambassador and the White House have denied that he supported that approach.

Midland Firemen To Decorate Park

Erection of Christmas decorations in Lincoln Park was to start today, according to plans discussed by Midland volunteer fire company No. 1 Monday night.

Mike Borato will be in charge, assisted by other firemen as they are available. Firemen will decorate the band shell at the park this year and in future years will add more decorations.

They hope to turn on the decorations next week.

It was announced that Santa Claus will visit firemen's homes Sunday, Dec. 23, and distribute gifts.

Acting Fire Chief Vincent D'Itri reported that additional fire equipment has been received, including four walkie-talkies and a water connection for hoses. He said the radios, to be used to coordinate firemen in fighting a fire or other emergency, will be for each of the fire officers and the truck engineer.

Sam Zuppe, vice president, presided in the absence of Tony Monaco, president. Next meeting is Jan. 14. Firemen meet in their quarters in the Borough Building.

AEC Plans New Nuclear Blast As Peace Bomb Test

CARLSBAD, N.M. (AP) — On the first anniversary of the first nuclear "peace bomb" explosion the Atomic Energy Commission is looking forward to another and larger detonation in the same area.

One year ago Monday the AEC detonated a three-kiloton "peace bomb" in a salt formation 1,200 feet beneath the rolling plains of southeastern New Mexico.

The AEC today opened the Project Gnome cavern to a group of U.S. newsmen and photographers in the first public inspection of the cavity.

At a briefing Sunday night, the AEC explained details of Project Coach which, it is hoped, will exploit the isotopes research started in Gnome. A date for the Coach explosion has not been set.

Multiple neutron capture processes will be studied in Project Coach, the AEC said.

"The basic idea of Plowshare is that the nuclear explosive is a very large source of energy," said John S. Kelly, director of the AEC's peaceful nuclear explosives division in Washington.

Both Gnome and Coach are part of the AEC's Plowshare program, designed to find peaceful uses for nuclear explosives.

Cincinnati Reports Major Crimes Hike

CINCINNATI (AP)—Cincinnati seems to be headed for its worst major crime year since 1937.

This was the gloomy forecast Monday by Martin P. Geygan, assistant superintendent of police records, as he reported an increase in all types of major crime in November. He said the crime rate for the first 11 months this year has been 14.6 per cent greater than in 1961.

Newsman Dies At 67

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Robert H. Purcell, 67, veteran newspaperman, died Sunday of cancer. He started as a reporter in 1912 for the St. Paul (Minn.) Pioneer Press and later worked for newspapers in Boston, Chicago, Minneapolis, Minn., and San Francisco and for The Associated Press in Minneapolis.

Ohio Boy, 3, Dies In 'Parachute Jump'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A "parachute jump" from a hassock with a bathing cap for a helmet was fatal Monday night to 3-year-old David Craig White.

The boy's father, Donald, said his son had been watching a television program when he began making his jumps. At first the boy was barehead but then he found a bathing cap and would pull it down before he jumped.

White said he was in another room when David apparently pulled the cap over his face and jumped. He became tangled in the cap and when the father returned to the room, the boy was unconscious.

White said he attempted to revive the youngster but failed. Doctors said David suffocated.

Homework Plan Told To Board

A student homework requirement guide prepared by a committee of teachers was outlined by Supt. Lowell Myers at a meeting of the Wellsville Board of Education Monday night.

The board also heard a report on a custodial duty evaluation program that has been started and employed a custodian for Garfield School.

Myers explained the homework requirement schedule is just a guide for teachers. He said it is based on a student carrying four subjects. Each teacher has been given a copy.

THE TIME GIVEN for each grade is based upon the amount it would take the average student to do the work. He also pointed out that in the upper grades, the time requirement is longer, the students have a study period during school hours which will cut the actual time to be spent by a pupil at his homework.

For the first and second grades no minimum was established while the maximum is "occasionally, not more than 15 minutes." For the third grade there is no minimum but the maximum is not more than twice a week and not more than 20 minutes each time.

A 30-minute per week minimum is set for the fourth grade but not more than three times per week and not more than 30 minutes each time. The fifth grade minimum is 45 minutes of work per week with no more than four homework assignments per week of not more than 30 minutes each.

The sixth grade schedule calls for a minimum of one hour per week with not more than four assignments per week of not more than 40 minutes each.

—:—

THE SEVENTH and eighth grades are scheduled for 30 minutes for each subject for each school night. The ninth grade is 40 minutes for each subject each night while it is 45 minutes for each subject each night for the 10th, 11th and 12th grades.

This is the first time such a schedule has been adopted in the schools.

Each custodian in the system has been presented a form to fill out showing the number of rooms serviced, the number of hallways, lounges, restrooms, stairways, offices, etc. It also checks windows, desks, type of floors, cloakrooms, fountains and all phases of the work.

The work will be studied and evaluated to give the board a better guide as to salaries and how the work is to be delegated.

Richard Powell of Maple Ave. was employed as the new custodian at Garfield at a salary of $3,900 per year. He will be placed on a 90-day probationary period.

HIS NAME was on the list submitted by the Civil Service Commission along with that of Charles O'Hara of Buckeye Ave. Powell will succeed Howard Furniss, who is resigning effective Dec. 21 to retire. James Judge, a custodian at the high school, asked to be transferred to Garfield. His request was refused.

Earl Mundy, supervisor of custodians and maintenance, reported on repairs being made at various buildings. He said there were BB. holes in some windows at MacDonald School. A fire bell has arrived from Canton for Garfield. Water is leaking through the foundation wall in the high school cafeteria. The board directed a sealer be applied.

A discussion was held on repairs being made to high school boilers and the board agreed to enter into a contract with a Pittsburgh firm for servicing two boilers at the high school and two at MacDonald.

Myers reviewed the reports he personally receives from the principals of each building. He also reviewed the meeting of the Athletic Board. A proposal for a new basketball league for seventh and eighth graders was aired and a discussion was held on a wrestling program, but it was decided to delay this because of finances.

MYERS SAID the Athletic Board will meet with the football coaches to review the present program. Earl Bake, board president, said the lighting system at Nicholson Stadium is in need of repairs. He also reported plans call for a new floor to be installed at the Beacom Memorial gym in the spring. A new lighting system was recently installed.

Russell Dysert, board member, commented the trend is for high schools to return to playing football games in the daytime. Costs will be obtained on metal towers for the lights at the football stadium to replace the present wooden poles.

Myers also reported on plans for obtaining new tapes for a language laboratory in the high school. The new tapes will correspond with present text books. Plans are to enlarge the laboratory later.

A discussion was held on starting a driver education program. The board informally agreed to investigate a summer program.

A REVIEW was held of the entire insurance program on the school buildings and contents. Raymond Rolley, clerk, said the buildings are appraised each year and can only be insured for 80 per cent of the value. Five insurance firms split the fire insurance. The question of insurance was raised by William Farrall, board member.

Rolley said there is $82,000 insurance on all contents in all schools. He said this is all the board can afford to purchase. The total coverage on the buildings is $1,634,000. The premiums this year totaled $3,206.74.

The board also received a report that a band instrument owned by the school, a piccilo, is missing. A discussion was held on whether the parents of the student using the instrument should pay for the loss. The problem was referred to the Band Board. The board agreed to abide by the decisions reached by the Band Board.

THE BOARD also agreed some policy should be formed on the responsibility of students toward instruments and band uniforms.

Rolley reported the new tax valuation in Wellsville is $11,492,029. The school system has a tax rate of 4.6-mills inside the 10-mill limitation and 21.3-mills outside the 10-mill limitation. With the new 5-mill levy adopted in November, the system will receive $57,000 additional tax monies next year. It was pointed out the system will receive less money from the state.

A discussion was held on salary increase for teachers and it was pointed out none is anticipated until the new contracts are signed for the 1963-64 year. The additional funds received probably will be applied to repairs to the buildings.

Rolley reported on the need for new electric system for the cafeteria. He said the Ohio Power Co. checked and said there are too many appliances on the line.

—:—

THE PRESENT setup is not heavy enough to handle the load and keeps blowing fuses. The board agreed to have the situation corrected during the Christmas vacation period.

The board renewed its membership in the Ohio School Boards Association for $81.

The annual reorganization meeting was set for 10 a. m. Tuesday, Jan. 1. The board will elect a president and vice president, and set the regular meeting dates for the coming year.

Board members received their checks for attending meetings during the past year. They signed them and turned them over to Bake, who operates a private fund used by the board to purchase or pay for things not permitted from regular school funds.

Palestine Pair Jailed On Contributing Case

LISBON — An East Palestine man and woman are serving six-month terms in County Jail imposed by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin on charges the pair contributed to the delinquency of the woman's minor child.

They are William McMillen, 33, and Mrs. Dorothy C. Haldiman, 34, who appeared before the judge Thursday. The charges were filed by McMillen's wife and Mrs. Haldiman's husband, alleging the couple contributed to the delinquency of a Haldiman child by taking the youngster along on a trip to Florida.

Mickey Mantle led American League sluggers last season with a .605 mark. Harmon Killebrew of the Twins was second with .545.

First Violence Marks Cleveland Papers' Walkout

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Newspaper Guild has asked for additional police protection in the wake of a picket line incident outside the Press and News building.

The incident—the first reported violence in the 12-day-old strike against Cleveland's two big daily newspapers — involved a Guild picket and an official of the Teamsters Union, which has decided to go back to work.

Max Riddle, pets editor of the Press, said he was punched in the nose and wrestled to the ground Monday by Anthony DePalma, business agent of Teamsters Local 473, which represents delivery truck-drivers.

DePalma could not be reached for his version.

Earlier in the day there were angry words when Teamsters Union members crossed Guild picket lines and entered the Plain Dealer building.

Members of 10 craft unions at the two newspapers are respecting the picket lines.

The drivers who went back to work were sent out to make collections and deliver gifts to carrier boys.

Police officers have been on duty outside the two newspaper buildings since the strike began Nov. 29.

Guild and management representatives met for more than five hours Monday in the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service offices. A Guild spokesman said there had been reports some progress was made on the job security issue, and another negotiating session was set for today.

Labor Secretary Enters New York Papers' Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz meets today with representatives of New York publishers and their striking printers in an effort to get the presses rolling at the city's nine major dailies. The newspaper blackout is in its third day.

Wirtz attends the meeting, a closed-door affair, with William E. Simkin, head of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, and negotiators for the Publishers Association of New York and International Typographical Union Local 6.

The labor secretary, credited with settling another strike against the New York Daily News a few weeks ago, stepped into the work stoppage by 3,000 ITU printers Monday night, following futile peace talks during the day.

Both sides in the printers-publishers dispute predicted a long strike, raising the memory of the 19-day blackout of the same newspapers at the same time of year in 1958 caused by a strike of deliverers.

The current strike began Saturday morning in a contract dispute between the publishers and the ITU, an AFL-CIO union.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Is it possible that men go through the menopause as women do?

My husband is 50. We have four grown children and seven grandchildren. Our lovely home is paid for, we have no financial worries and this should be, as the poets say, "the time of life for which the first was made."

About two years ago my husband began to get cranky and irritable. He found fault with my cooking, fussed about the way his shirts looked, complained that my hair-do wasn't right. Nothing suited him.

During the presidential elections he fought with everyone. He didn't like Kennedy or Nixon and finally voted for his own write in candidate—Hoot Gibson.

These last few months he has become sullen and withdrawn. He has lost interest in poker, bowling and lodge work. His personality is totally different from what it was three years ago. Can it be the male menopause?—MRS. L. K.

-:-

Dear Mrs. L. K.: Men do not experience menopause in the same sense that women do. The personality change you describe sometimes occurs in men when they reach their mid-40s or early 50s, which is the corresponding age for "the change" in women.

Your husband should have a complete physical checkup. If nothing is organically wrong, the physican probably will recommend a psychiatrist.

Faithful Carrier Boy

Dear Ann: Our son delivers papers and takes his job seriously. The problem I am writing about is the lack of consideration shown by some of his customers.

Ben's territory includes many apartment buildings. People move out left and right, leaving no forwarding address, and Ben gets stuck with the bill. Maybe they don't realize it's the carrier boy who is left holding the bag.

Then there are always folks who are slow pay and the boy has to go back two and three times to get his money. This isn't fair. Ben has had to travel many extra miles, doubling back for collections—in all kinds of weather.

I wish you'd remind people, Ann, that the carrier boy is trying to be a good little businessman and he deserves a break. Thank you—D.L.

Dear D. L.: The carrier boys are industrious youngsters who should be rewarded for their efforts, not exploited because of their youth. And they are very important young men in MY life. I couldn't get this column to many of you without them, so please treat 'em good, folks.

Gossipy Widow

Dear Ann: My wife has a girlhood friend who lost her husband six months ago. This woman is a gossip and a troublemaker. I find her presence in our home a serious irritant. Since she has been widowed, she parks herself here for dinner at least twice a week.

Our dinner hour used to be spent in family discussion. No more. This clattertrap monopolizes every conversation with her petty gossip. I don't like our children to hear this drivel. She has no judgment whatever and will say anything that comes to her mind.

I've told my wife how I feel but she insists the woman is lonely and needs the support of her friends. I admire my wife's generosity, but this woman's frequent presence in our home is damaging our family life.

Am I hard hearted? I need your opinion.—AGAINST GOSSIP MONGERING.

Dear Against: If your wife wants to be a good kid let her listen to the mud slinging during the daytime. The rest of the family ought not be subjected to it.

Insist that the dinner invitations be cut way back—like once a month. Your wife is overdoing the Good Samaritan bit at the expense of her family.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

12 Reported In Crop Plan

Twelve farms in Hancock County have been enrolled to take part in the 1963 wheat stabilization program, the County Agricultural, Stabilization and Conservation Committee reported today.

Carl Allison of New Cumberland, chairman, said possible advance payments to the dozen farms under provisions permitting about half of the payments to be made this fall come to about $523.

Allison pointed out that farmers participating in the 1963 voluntary wheat program who comply with their farm allotments will be eligible for wheat price support at $2 per bushel.

Of this amount, 18 cents per bushel will be an in-kind payment based on the normal production of the farm's 1963 wheat acreage. The remaining $1.82 per bushel price support will be available through loans and purchase agreements.

Farmers who reduce wheat acreage by 20 to 50 per cent will receive income-maintaining payments equal to 50 per cent of the county loan rate (reflecting the $1.82 per bushel national average) on the normal production (1959-60 average yields) of the diverted wheat acreage.

Allison emphasized that farmers who participate in the wheat program must divert all of the acreage signed up in order to be eligible for price support or for acreage diversion on price - supported payments. The winter wheat signup period will continue through Friday. Growers in spring wheat areas will sign up early next year.

Missile Due NATO Has Successful Test

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —A Pershing missile of the type to be sent to NATO troops early in 1963 scored a successful test launch Monday night at the missile center.

The short-range missile raced 200 miles for its 37th success in 42 firings.

5 Youths Held In Raid On Girls' Dormitory At OU

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Police today were holding five youths accused of being among 15 to 25 who took part in a raid on a girls' dormitory at Ohio University here. None of the youths held are students at the school.

Police said the group, wearing stockings and masks over their faces, broke into Lindley Hall at 2:20 a.m. Monday and in a 15-minute foray stole clothing from chests of drawers in several rooms. No girls were molested. The value of the clothing taken was estimated at $100.

"We do not look upon this as a student prank," Dean of Students William Butler said. "It is a serious act of misconduct."

Butler said police were able to obtain auto license plate numbers of the car involved and these led them to the five being held. They were not identified.

Butler said a determined effort is being made to round up the others taking part in the raid.

A pound of walnuts, after shelling, should yield two cups of nutmeats.

New Market Vogue

U.S. Business Accepts International Challenge

NEW YORK (AP)—There's an excited new vogue among many American businessmen: Internationalism.

Interviews with executives across the country repeatedly turned up the opinion that prospects of increased international business was the single most inviting economic challenge at the moment.

This enthusiasm reflects what these businessmen themselves admit is a turnabout from the days when tariffs and other protectionist methods were the pillars of American business thought.

While protectionism persists in many quarters and its voice will continue to be heard, the extent of the switch was indicated by the passage this year with relative ease of the Trade Expansion Act empowering the President to slash U.S. tariffs broadly in exchange for foreign cuts.

What brought the change?

"When a camera made in Japan on Monday is selling on a counter here the next Monday," said Chicago businessman Charles Percy. "It's impossible to believe protectionism is the prudent course."

Much of it, too, is the alluring prospect that there are millions of potential customers nearing the point where they will want and buy American consumer goods . . . if only U.S. goods can get to them.

The development of Europe's common market, linking Italy, France, West Germany, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg into an America-like mass market, offers the brightest example of this sort of thing.

"It's like opening up the West," said a New England industrialist.

Despite this enthusiasm for long—term goals, however, these men acknowledge that there may be some bad moments before they are realized.

"Many businesses will go through a cold shower bath as we did when they cut camera tariffs," said Percy, president of Bell and Howell.

Percy is a man who has been through the freer trade battle and has survived with enthusiasm intact.

Catholic Women Plan To Fete Msgr. Kelley

The Youngstown Diocesan Council of Catholic Women will honor the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Norman P. Kelley of Girard with a testimonial dinner Sunday at 6 p.m. at the Mahoning Country Club in Girard.

Msgr. Kelley resigned last month after serving the council as moderator since 1949. Members of the Columbiana County deanery NCCW who plan to attend the dinner are to make reservations by Wednesday with Mrs. Robert L. Carter of Summitville.

Springfield Defers Sunday Closing Action

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — The Springfield City Commission has voted to defer all action on proposed enforcement of Sunday closing laws until after Christmas.

The action was taken Monday. Two weeks ago the Small Businessmen's Association had asked that the commission not take any action until the legislature, which convenes Jan. 7, had a chance to clarify the laws. The commission action Monday also delayed any decision on the small businessmen's request.

Commissioners said they felt that merchandising programs for the holidays had been planned and any ruling on enforcement would disrupt operations.

Post Office In Newell Will Extend Schedule

Preparing for the annual Christmas rush, the Newell Post Office will begin an extended schedule of operations this week, Postmaster Arnie Durham announced today.

The facility will be open Wednesday and Saturday afternoons until Christmas, beginning tomorrow, Durham said. It normally is closed on those afternoons.

In addition, the Post Office will start on a daily schedule of 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. next week instead of 8 to 4:30, Durham announced.

He asked that Newell residents mail their Christmas packages as early as possible to avoid delays in the rush before the holiday.

I wish you'd remind people, Ann, that the carrier boy is trying to be a good little businessman and he deserves a break. Thank you—D.L.

-:-

Dear D. L.: The carrier boys are industrious youngsters who should be rewarded for their efforts, not exploited because of their youth. And they are very important young men in MY life. I couldn't get this column to many of you without them, so please treat 'em good, folks.

Gossipy Widow

Dear Ann: My wife has a girlhood friend who lost her husband six months ago. This woman is a gossip and a troublemaker. I find her presence in our home a serious irritant. Since she has been widowed, she parks herself here for dinner at least twice a week.

Our dinner hour used to be spent in family discussion. No more. This clattertrap monopolizes every conversation with her petty gossip. I don't like our children to hear this drivel. She has no judgment whatever and will say anything that comes to her mind.

I've told my wife how I feel but she insists the woman is lonely and needs the support of her friends. I admire my wife's generosity, but this woman's frequent presence in our home is damaging our family life.

Am I hard hearted? I need your opinion.—AGAINST GOSSIP MONGERING.

Dear Against: If your wife wants to be a good kid let her listen to the mud slinging during the daytime. The rest of the family ought not be subjected to it.

Insist that the dinner invitations be cut way back—like once a month. Your wife is overdoing the Good Samaritan bit at the expense of her family.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

12 Reported In Crop Plan

Twelve farms in Hancock County have been enrolled to take part in the 1963 wheat stabilization program, the County Agricultural, Stabilization and Conservation Committee reported today.

Carl Allison of New Cumberland, chairman, said possible advance payments to the dozen farms under provisions permitting about half of the payments to be made this fall come to about $523.

Allison pointed out that farmers participating in the 1963 voluntary wheat program who comply with their farm allotments will be eligible for wheat price support at $2 per bushel.

Of this amount, 18 cents per bushel will be an in-kind payment based on the normal production of the farm's 1963 wheat acreage. The remaining $1.82 per bushel price support will be available through loans and purchase agreements.

Farmers who reduce wheat acreage by 20 to 50 per cent will receive income-maintaining payments equal to 50 per cent of the county loan rate (reflecting the $1.82 per bushel national average) on the normal production (1959-60 average yields) of the diverted wheat acreage.

Allison emphasized that farmers who participate in the wheat program must divert all of the acreage signed up in order to be eligible for price support or for acreage diversion on price - supported payments. The winter wheat signup period will continue through Friday. Growers in spring wheat areas will sign up early next year.

Missile Due NATO Has Successful Test

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —A Pershing missile of the type to be sent to NATO troops early in 1963 scored a successful test launch Monday night at the missile center.

The short-range missile raced 200 miles for its 37th success in 42 firings.

5 Youths Held In Raid On Girls' Dormitory At OU

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Police today were holding five youths accused of being among 15 to 25 who took part in a raid on a girls' dormitory at Ohio University here. None of the youths held are students at the school.

Police said the group, wearing stockings and masks over their faces, broke into Lindley Hall at 2:20 a.m. Monday and in a 15-minute foray stole clothing from chests of drawers in several rooms. No girls were molested. The value of the clothing taken was estimated at $100.

"We do not look upon this as a student prank," Dean of Students William Butler said. "It is a serious act of misconduct."

Butler said police were able to obtain auto license plate numbers of the car involved and these led them to the five being held. They were not identified.

Butler said a determined effort is being made to round up the others taking part in the raid.

A pound of walnuts, after shelling, should yield two cups of nutmeats.

New Market Vogue

U.S. Business Accepts International Challenge

NEW YORK (AP)—There's an excited new vogue among many American businessmen: Internationalism.

Interviews with executives across the country repeatedly turned up the opinion that prospects of increased international business was the single most inviting economic challenge at the moment.

This enthusiasm reflects what these businessmen themselves admit is a turnabout from the days when tariffs and other protectionist methods were the pillars of American business thought.

While protectionism persists in many quarters and its voice will continue to be heard, the extent of the switch was indicated by the passage this year with relative ease of the Trade Expansion Act empowering the President to slash U.S. tariffs broadly in exchange for foreign cuts.

What brought the change?

"When a camera made in Japan on Monday is selling on a counter here the next Monday," said Chicago businessman Charles Percy. "It's impossible to believe protectionism is the prudent course."

Much of it, too, is the alluring prospect that there are millions of potential customers nearing the point where they will want and buy American consumer goods . . . if only U.S. goods can get to them.

The development of Europe's common market, linking Italy, France, West Germany, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg into an America-like mass market, offers the brightest example of this sort of thing.

"It's like opening up the West," said a New England industrialist.

Despite this enthusiasm for long—term goals, however, these men acknowledge that there may be some bad moments before they are realized.

"Many businesses will go through a cold shower bath as we did when they cut camera tariffs," said Percy, president of Bell and Howell.

Percy is a man who has been through the freer trade battle and has survived with enthusiasm intact.

Springfield Defers Sunday Closing Action

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — The Springfield City Commission has voted to defer all action on proposed enforcement of Sunday closing laws until after Christmas.

The action was taken Monday. Two weeks ago the Small Businessmen's Association had asked that the commission not take any action until the legislature, which convenes Jan. 7, had a chance to clarify the laws. The commission action Monday also delayed any decision on the small businessmen's request.

Commissioners said they felt that merchandising programs for the holidays had been planned and any ruling on enforcement would disrupt operations.

Post Office In Newell Will Extend Schedule

Preparing for the annual Christmas rush, the Newell Post Office will begin an extended schedule of operations this week, Postmaster Arnie Durham announced today.

The facility will be open Wednesday and Saturday afternoons until Christmas, beginning tomorrow, Durham said. It normally is closed on those afternoons.

In addition, the Post Office will start on a daily schedule of 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. next week instead of 8 to 4:30, Durham announced.

He asked that Newell residents mail their Christmas packages as early as possible to avoid delays in the rush before the holiday.

Catholic Women Plan To Fete Msgr. Kelley

The Youngstown Diocesan Council of Catholic Women will honor the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Norman P. Kelley of Girard with a testimonial dinner Sunday at 6 p.m. at the Mahoning Country Club in Girard.

Msgr. Kelley resigned last month after serving the council as moderator since 1949. Members of the Columbiana County deanery NCCW who plan to attend the dinner are to make reservations by Wednesday with Mrs. Robert L. Carter of Summitville.

Due 2-Day Holidays

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State employes will have two-day holidays for both Christmas and New Year's. Gov. Michael V. DiSalle said Monday the employes will be off Dec. 24 and 25 for Christmas and Dec. 31 and Jan. 1 for New Year's.

Kobuta Union Has Election

The annual election of officers of Local 8-74, Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union, was being held today at the union hall in Monaca. Balloting began at 6:30 a. m. and will close at 7 p.m.

The union represents employes in the Koppers Co. Kobuta plant where a work stoppage that began May 1 was ended after mediation Nov. 17.

The union's Executive Board said in a "newsletter" it began issuing during the strike that 295 persons have been called back to work. About 600 belong to the union.

The current newsletter contains information on company policy about severance pay and retirement and also vacation pay, which a number of employes accepted during the long strike.

Each employe recalled to work must notify the company by Wednesday on whether he desires to accept vacation time or pay.

The newsletter added that meetings have been held with company officials, international representatives and the Federal Mediation Service in recent weeks over differences existing since the settlement.

Discussions are being held with Blue Cross Hospitalization representatives for a plan only for those now on temporary lay-off status.

Officers Seated For Shrine Club

Installation of new officers for 1963 highlighted a meeting of the East Liverpool Shrine Club Monday night at the Casting Club. "Ladies Night" was observed and 29 members and wives or friends attended.

Ed Ring was seated as president to succeed Irving (Dutch) Vorndran. Other officers are Paul Taylor, first vice president; Joe Barrett, second vice president; Charles Allison, treasurer, and John McGarey, secretary. Woodrow Price is reporter.

Paul Calhoun, noble, was installing officer. Ring named new committees for the year. Reports on crippled children's projects were presented by Fred Stevens and O. Earl Greenwalt.

Lunch was served. A New Year's Eve party was planned Dec. 31 at the Casting Club.

The club's trip to a fall ceremonial in Cleveland on Saturday was canceled because of the snowstorm.

Band Members Feted At Church

Members of Wellsville High School Band who attend the Central Methodist Church were honored at a coverdish supper held Monday night at the church by the Methodist Men.

Miss Fay Pickens introduced each member present and read the names of those absent. Also honored was Larry Baughman, son of Russell Baughman, president, for his football activities. He was All-Buckeye Conference tackle the past season.

Thirty-three attended. The men will open the sale of Christmas trees Friday at 10th and Main Sts.

Harold Driggs conducted devotions and led a carol sing. The Rev. William Hewitt gave the invocation and benediction.

Robert Lewis screened a movie.

Boy Gets Probation To Parents In Theft

LISBON — A 16-year-old Leetonia boy was placed on probation to his parents at a hearing Monday before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin in connection with the thefts of three tires at the McKarn's Garage in Hanoverton.

The boy, charged with delinquency, was arrested Saturday by Roy Painter, Hanover Township constable. The stolen tires were recovered from the boy's car.

Three older youths also were involved in the theft, will be charged later.

The tires were taken on Oct. 20 and Nov. 24 from a damaged car owned by Howard Shepard of Hanoverton R.D.

The youth was placed on a 9 p.m. curfew, his driver's license was suspended for two months, he must pay $25 — $15 for restitution and $10 to the Child Counseling Center, and report to Chief Juvenile Officer Cornelius Csepke at his request.

Rhodes' Jobs Plan Okayed By Business Group

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A proposed plan to give Ohio 200,000 new jobs has received the stamp of approval by a committee of Buckeye State business leaders.

Gov.-elect James A. Rhodes, who proposed the plan during his campaign, called it the No. 1 program in Ohio to combat unemployment and promised the new legislature, which convenes Jan. 7, complete cooperation in working the plan.

The report by the committee called for a $200 million program to promote industrial development and research with financial help from the state through sale of revenue bonds without additional taxes on industry.

"In event new state taxes are necessary in this biennium, additional funds should be obtained from consumer-type taxes," the report said.

The study was submitted Monday by James J. Nance, president of Cleveland's Central National Bank, and George E. Wilson, executive director of Akron's Area Development Committee.

The report was given to Rhodes and leaders of the 105th General Assembly.

The program would create a top-level authority of 25 members pointed by the governor to staggappointed by the governor to staggered three-year terms to serve without pay as an Ohio industrial sales force.

The authority would have separate seven-member commissions for developing industry and research. Members of each commission would be named by the governor to staggered seven - year terms, subject to Senate consent.

Nance urged "an initial expenditure of $100 million in each area" with an immediate appropriation of $10 million to operate the authority.

2 Men In Theft Held For Court

LISBON — Two Lisbon men were bound over to the Grand Jury Monday afternoon by County Judge James L. MacDonald on a charge of breaking and entering the Whitacre Coal Mine on the old Steubenville Rd. on Dec. 1.

William E. House, 25, and Ralph L. Jones, 22, both of 510½ W. Lincoln Way, were held for court. Bond for House was set at $1,000 and Jones $500.

House was also bound over on grand larceny in the theft of tools, cutting torches and gauges from the Lisbon Steel Fabricating Co. on Grant St. He pleaded not guilty. Jones and Robert A. Hutchison, 19, of Grant St. were also held for this theft. House's bond in this was set at $100.

Warrants were signed by Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan and all are confined to the County Jail in lieu of bonds.

Boy Gets Probation To Parents In Theft

LISBON — A 16-year-old Leetonia boy was placed on probation to his parents at a hearing Monday before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin in connection with the thefts of three tires at the McKarn's Garage in Hanoverton.

The boy, charged with delinquency, was arrested Saturday by Roy Painter, Hanover Township constable. The stolen tires were recovered from the boy's car.

Three older youths also were involved in the theft, will be charged later.

The tires were taken on Oct. 20 and Nov. 24 from a damaged car owned by Howard Shepard of Hanoverton R.D.

The youth was placed on a 9 p.m. curfew, his driver's license was suspended for two months, he must pay $25 — $15 for restitution and $10 to the Child Counseling Center, and report to Chief Juvenile Officer Cornelius Csepke at his request.

Rhodes' Jobs Plan Okayed By Business Group

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A proposed plan to give Ohio 200,000 new jobs has received the stamp of approval by a committee of Buckeye State business leaders.

Gov.-elect James A. Rhodes, who proposed the plan during his campaign, called it the No. 1 program in Ohio to combat unemployment and promised the new legislature, which convenes Jan. 7, complete cooperation in working the plan.

The report by the committee called for a $200 million program to promote industrial development and research with financial help from the state through sale of revenue bonds without additional taxes on industry.

"In event new state taxes are necessary in this biennium, additional funds should be obtained from consumer-type taxes," the report said.

The study was submitted Monday by James J. Nance, president of Cleveland's Central National Bank, and George E. Wilson, executive director of Akron's Area Development Committee.

The report was given to Rhodes and leaders of the 105th General Assembly.

The program would create a top-level authority of 25 members pointed by the governor to stag-appointed by the governor to staggered three-year terms to serve without pay as an Ohio industrial sales force.

The authority would have separate seven-member commissions for developing industry and research. Members of each commission would be named by the governor to staggered seven - year terms, subject to Senate consent.

Nance urged "an initial expenditure of $100 million in each area" with an immediate appropriation of $10 million to operate the authority.

2 Men In Theft Held For Court

LISBON — Two Lisbon men were bound over to the Grand Jury Monday afternoon by County Judge James L. MacDonald on a charge of breaking and entering the Whitacre Coal Mine on the old Steubenville Rd. on Dec. 1.

William E. House, 25, and Ralph L. Jones, 22, both of 510½ W. Lincoln Way, were held for court. Bond for House was set at $1,000 and Jones $500.

House was also bound over on grand larceny in the theft of tools, cutting torches and gauges from the Lisbon Steel Fabricating Co. on Grant St. He pleaded not guilty. Jones and Robert A. Hutchison, 19, of Grant St. were also held for this theft. House's bond in this was set at $100.

Warrants were signed by Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan and all are confined to the County Jail in lieu of bonds.

Out Of The Air

By ALAN GILL

'My Name: Jose Jiminez'

The elderly waiter leaned over the table and told Bill Dana that he always made sure he caught Mr. Dana whenever the latter appeared as Jose Jiminez on the Danny Thomas and Ed Sullivan programs, because — well he sure got a boot out of that Jose character.

Alan Gill

Real funny. How did Bill Dana do it — that accent and all? "That's the way I talk," Dana told the man in a Quincy (Mass.) voice. "This is dialect I'm doing now."

Actually, the dialect and the character were born on "The Steve Allen Show" shortly after Dana had joined the show as chief writer (with Don Hinkley).

HOW DID HE get the writing job to begin with? Well, he'd been working as a comedian — with Imogene Coca and Martha Raye —and had turned to writing for a funny fellow named Don Adams. (Tread carefully here; we're in a backflash with a backflash.

Adams, as a frequent visitor to the Allen show, brought Dana along, naturally. And after one particularly successful spot, "Steve asked me whether I wrote the stuff, and I shyly screamed, 'Yes.' He then said, 'How would you like to write for me?' After an embarrassing series of hugs and kisses, Steve got the idea that I might not be against his suggestion."

And Jose? He was born on the Allen whoop-up one night around Christmas time. Hinkley and Dana had worked out a sketch that involved a Santa Claus school in Los Angeles and a Spanish student who could render "Ho ho ho" only as "Jo jo jo."

Everyone found it very (sic) "holly" and — since Dana was the only man around who could do the dialect — a new and lucrative career was born.

A YEAR FROM NOW — after a sixth Jose Jiminez record album is released, after a few more Sullivan-Thomas-Allen guest appearances have been made, after many thousand more air miles have been logged between the night clubs here and the conventions there — Bill Dana will be showing up in a weekly series called "The Bill Dana Show," playing Jose Jiminez as a hotel elevator operator. (Shades of "The Danny Thomas Show?" Exactly.)

"Clever title, isn't it?" Dana asked. "Took us ages to come up with it. Actually, we sold it for the 1963-64 season months and months ago, and without a pilot. What's more, we've got a contract for 32 weeks and 7 replays.

"When I heard about all this —and wow! — I phoned my mother and said, 'Mom! I've got great news for you!' 'You're getting married,' she said. That's my mother.

"JOSE'S SUCCESS, I guess is explainable in one or two ways. There's dignity about him. He always wins out, despite everything. And maybe because of that, the Latins love him, they dig him.

"Jose is no dumbbell, he uses big words. But he's innocent. This guy was born without the original sin.

"The dialect isn't hard. But I'm an awful copycat anyway; can't help it. I'm litmus paper. Put me in a living room with someone who s-s-stutters and I'm s-s-sunk.

"As Jose I've worked with the greatest straight men anywhere: Ed Sullivan, Steve Allen, Garry Moore, Milton Berle, Scott Carpenter, Walter Schirra, 'Shorty' Powers—"

-:-

HOW COME the astronauts? Well, the Messrs. Sheppard, Glenn, etc., took to Jose's astronaut routine some time back. A Dana recording was blaring, after countdown, over the Cape Canaveral public address system throughout the Alan Sheppard flight.

And just after Walter Schirra's successful re-entry, Dana — out in Hawaii — called long distance to Gen. "Rosey" O'Donnell's office to inquire about Schirra's safety.

"A few minutes later, my phone rang. And I recognized the hello: it was Schirra's voice. 'Wally,' I said, 'where the devil have you BEEN?' He said, 'Around.' "

Dana laughed, and a luncheon companion was struck by the liveliness in the black eyes and the easy good nature of the laugh.

But after all, Dana can relax now. Since that first night with Steve Allen, the man has been around. And with all those contracts sticking out of his pocket, he's making a nice re-entry.

Radio Hams Pick Officers For '63

About 50 attended a family Christmas dinner party of the Triangle Amateur Radio Club Monday night at the Glenmoor fire station at which officers were elected.

Named were Glenn Waight of Fisher Ave., president; Harry Aivalotis of Anderson Blvd., vice president; D. G. Wilkinson of Jennings Ave., secretary; Otto McVey of Boring Ln., trustee; and Howard Johnston of Chester, treasurer.

Lester Armstrong, retiring president, gave the welcome, and Wilkinson, dinner committee chairman, served as master of ceremonies.

Organ music was provided by Bob Cook of Ohio Ave., and Christmas selections were sung by a quartet, Fred Kane, Walter Kell, Mrs. Ginger Hile and Mrs. Marjorie Mason.

On the committee were Earl Tice, Richard Sisley, and Charles Burke.

Lakeville Damage Suit Dismissed By Judge

JEFFERSON, Ohio (AP) — A $275,000 damage suit filed by Lakeville Village against nine officers of the Lakeville Civic Progressive Committee has been dismissed by Judge Roland Pontius of Ashtabula County Common Pleas Court. The judge said the plaintiff had not filed an amended petition as ordered by the court.

The village claimed in its suit that the committee's opposition to a Lakeville water system had delayed the system's construction and added to its cost.

Radio Hams Pick Officers For '63

About 50 attended a family Christmas dinner party of the Triangle Amateur Radio Club Monday night at the Glenmoor fire station at which officers were elected.

Named were Glenn Waight of Fisher Ave., president; Harry Aivalotis of Anderson Blvd., vice president; D. G. Wilkinson of Jennings Ave., secretary; Otto McVey of Boring Ln., trustee; and Howard Johnston of Chester, treasurer.

Lester Armstrong, retiring president, gave the welcome, and Wilkinson, dinner committee chairman, served as master of ceremonies.

Organ music was provided by Bob Cook of Ohio Ave., and Christmas selections were sung by a quartet, Fred Kane, Walter Kell, Mrs. Ginger Hile and Mrs. Marjorie Mason.

On the committee were Earl Tice, Richard Sisley, and Charles Burke.

Lakeville Damage Suit Dismissed By Judge

JEFFERSON, Ohio (AP) — A $275,000 damage suit filed by Lakeville Village against nine officers of the Lakeville Civic Progressive Committee has been dismissed by Judge Roland Pontius of Ashtabula County Common Pleas Court. The judge said the plaintiff had not filed an amended petition as ordered by the court.

The village claimed in its suit that the committee's opposition to a Lakeville water system had delayed the system's construction and added to its cost.

Mr. Shnoo's Zoo

BY LUCRECE BEALE

CHAPTER EIGHT

The trip home was even more enjoyable than the trip to Santa Land for by now Mr. Shnoo was accustomed to his surroundings and was able to relax.

Remembering that the Blue-Scaled Scholar liked to be read to, Mr. Shnoo found the book "Three Little Fish and How They Grew" and, taking up where Santa had stopped on Page 819, he read it through to the end.

Then, he began to read from a book of poetry called "Sea Voices". He could tell the Blue-Scaled Scholar liked it because he made a gentle humming sound as he sped on his journey.

When they arrived on home shores Mr. Shnoo thanked the Scholar for the voyage and promised to bring him some new books for his library. Then he hurried with Honeybun to the zoo. He put the bear in her cage and untied the handkerchief that bound her muzzle.

"How would you like a steak?" he asked.

HONEYBUN clapped her paws and Mr. Shnoo gave her an enormous hunk of meat which she easily polished off with her dinosaur teeth.

Later, in the office, Mr. Shnoo said to Crookshank, "We must keep a sharp watch for visitors carrying firecrackers. Mustn't let this happen again. Also, I must order extra feedings for Honeybun. She'll need building up."

"Waste of money," said Crookshank with a scowl.

"That's not for you to say," said Mr. Shnoo. "It's my zoo."

"Not entirely until you pay me my last pieces of gold," retorted Crookshank.

"You'll have your gold by Christmas eve," said Mr. Shnoo. He hurried away, not only to escape Crookshank but because he had to inspect the zoo. He wanted to make sure everything was in order for the Queen's visit which 'Feed them well,' Mr. Shnoo said to their keeper.

surely would be coming any day now.

Because he had heard that the Queen was especially interested in birds he went first to the bird cages. It was winter and most of the bright - plumaged birds were kept in warmly heated, glass-enclosed cages. Very few were hardy enough to be allowed in the outdoor cages.

"Keep them warm," said Mr. Shnoo to the bird keeper.

"Yes, indeed," nodded the keeper. "I keep it like a tropical forest in here."

—:—

MR. SHNOO went on to the aquarium, the reptile house and the lion cages. He ended up at the reindeer enclosure where the deer were calmly grazing, giving no hint that thy knew how to fly.

"Feed them well," Mr. Shnoo said to their keeper. "They have a big night coming."

"Yes, sir!" said the keeper though little he knew of the reindeer's secret.

Mr. Shnoo's heart was filled with happiness. He felt he was the most fortunate man alive to have such a zoo.

"And now that Honeybun is well our troubles are over," he thought as he dropped off to sleep that night.

But alas! His troubles were only begun for he was hardly out of bed the next morning when the bird keeper was banging on his door.

"Sir! An awful thing has happened! I can't think how it came about!"

"What?"

The keeper nodded. "One of the glass windows was broken and they all flew out. Oh, how could it have happened? The glass was there last night!"

Mr. Shnoo threw on his coat. "We must find them quickly," he cried. "They'll freeze to death!"

With the keeper at his heels he dashed from the house.

Infant Girl Perishes In Cleveland Blaze

CLEVELAND (AP) — An 11-month-old girl died Monday in a fire at a Cleveland Heights apartment building. Firemen said the blaze was started by the victim's brother playing with matches.

The body of Marcia Stottlemeyer was found by firemen in a smoke-filled bedroom. Attendants at Doctors Hospital said she apparently died of suffocation.

Cleveland Heights Fire Chief Frank Veasley said Matthew Stottlemeyer, 3, started the fire while playing with matches in a sunroom and then ran to a neighbor's suite. The boy was not hurt.

Poor Record Keeping Cited In Vote Issue

CINCINNATI (AP) — The case of five apparently unregistered persons who voted in the sixth ward last month has been cleared up. The answer: sloppy record keeping.

The Hamilton County Board of Elections announced Monday an investigation showed the voters' signatures were recorded incorrectly. Inexperienced polling place officials were blamed for the error.

Mrs. Roosevelt Given U.N. Salute By Thant

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —U.N. Secretary-General U Thant Monday described the late Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt as "one of the principal architects" of the universal declaration of human rights.

U.S. Chief Delegate Adlai E. Stevenson noted that the declaration was drawn up in the U.N. Commission on Human Rights, while Mrs. Roosevelt was chairman. "I consider it as part of the legacy she has left for mankind," he said.

The two men praised Mrs. Roosevelt in statements issued for Human Rights Day today, the 14th anniversary of the U.N. General Assembly's unanimous adoption of the declaration.

Muhammad Zafrulla Khan of Pakistan, president of the U.N. General Assembly, said in a statement that there had been a "fight against despotism and exploitation through the ages."

Ohio State, Minus Lucas, In Thick Of Basketball Race

Bucks Rated Third; Cincy Easily No. 1

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ohio State's flashy Buckeyes jumped right into the thick of contention for college basketball honors but Cincinnati's defending champions easily maintained their lofty station as the nation's No. 1 team in the weekly Associated Press poll today.

As a matter of fact, it was a breeze for the unbeaten Bearcats, who received all but one of the votes cast by a panel of 45 sports writers and sportscasters. The lone first-place vote not garnered by Cincinnati went to the Duke Blue Devils, who were placed second for the second straight week.

Cincinnati gathered 449 out of a possible 450 points on a 10-9-8-7 basis with 44 firsts and one second. Duke piled up a sufficient number of second-place votes to beat out Ohio State for second place with 365 points to the Buckeyes' 212.

Ohio State, which rolled up its fourth straight victory Saturday with a 76-69 whipping of highly-ranked West Virginia, was one of three newcomers to the top ten. The others were Colorado, the defending Big Eight champion, which burst into eighth place and Illinois of the Big Ten, which moved into tenth.

High-scoring Loyola of Chicago clung to its fourth place spot and Mississippi State, preseason co-favorite with Kentucky for the Southeastern Conference crown, remained fifth. West Virginia fell three pegs from third to sixth, Wisconsin skidded a notch to seventh and Oregon State fell two places to ninth.

Indiana, Kentucky and Wichita, which held the last three places in last week's top ten, fell out of the elite group altogether.

Cincinnati, with the same team that won the NCAA crown last year except for Paul Hogue, rolled over George Washington 86-59 Saturday for its fourth victory. Duke remained unbeaten, posting its third victory with a 92-56 rout of Maryland.

Wisconsin Cagers Dealt Big Surprise

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

John Robbins, at 5-feet 8 inches, was the biggest man on the Indiana State campus today after a 22-point performance that further complicated the aspirations of Wisconsin's badgered Badgers.

The Indiana State mighty mite fired in 18 points in the second half as the Sycamores from Terre Haute overcame a 19-point deficit in the final 13 minutes and whipped the nation's seventh-ranked team 87-86 Monday night on the Wisconsin court.

The Badgers built a 12-point halftime lead into a 19-point bulge before they fizzled.

It was the second loss in four games for the veteran Badgers, who played with the same team that finished second to Ohio State in the Big Ten last year. Wisconsin's Ken Siebel took scoring honors with 25 points.

In other games, Southern Illinois toppled Oklahoma 66-63, Missouri knocked off Indiana 52-51, LSU stopped Texas 75-66 and Utah upended Oklahoma City 63-61.

Among the elite, fourth-ranked Loyola of Chicago had little difficulty beating Wisconsin-Milwaukee 107-47 as Jerry Harkness paced the Ramblers to their third consecutive over-100 score with 23 points. And No. 5 Mississippi State walloped Louisiana College 83-59 with Joe Dan Gold pacing the Maroons to their 18th consecutive victory with 20 points.

Bradley and Marquette, two teams looking for a spot in the top ten, managed to stay unbeaten by one point. Mack Herndon scored 31 points but the Braves had to hold off a late Murray State, (Ky.) drive for a 79-78 triumph, while the Warriors edged Kansas State 72-71 when two foul shots by Ron Glaser with a minute, 43 seconds remaining provided the winning margin.

Gotham Bowl Is Facing Big Problems This Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Nebraska and Miami were planning today to go ahead with the Gotham Bowl football game here next Saturday, even though all they are sure of getting out of it-at this stage—is the time of day.

Problems over financial arrangements for the teams, the lack of a television tie-up and a newspaper strike in New York that may doom the game to be played without a publicity build-up, cast a cloud over it.

Bob Curran, director of the game, refused comment on the financial problems, but said he had rented Yankee Stadium and ordered 125 wrist watches for the officials and players.

Nebraska Athletic Director Tippy Dye said he is confident the Bowl will meet its financial commitments and the game will go on.

It is planned for 11 a.m., EST.

Curran's estimated attendance of 30,000 may be optimistic.

Last year's inaugural game between Utah State and Baylor drew less than 15,000.

Miami Athletic Director Jack Harding said he had been assured that a check for "approximately $30,000 would be placed in escrow by Wednesday, according to our agreement."

Dye has asked for a $35,000 deposit "because that's what our expenses will be."

Miami, as it has all year, will depend heavily on the passing of All-America George Mira, the flashy junior quarterback who led the team to a 7-3 mark.

Nebraska had an 8-2 season.

Little Potters League Will Open This Week

The youngsters take to the hardwoods this week when the Little Potters Sixth and Seventh grade leagues open play.

The Sixth graders will launch their season Thursday at the high school gym with the opener at 4:10 pitting American Vit. against Hune Co. In the 4:35 game, Ogilvie's takes the court against Bright's and the 5 p. m. tilt shows Columbiana Finance meeting Coca - Cola.

Friday, the Seventh Grade League opens with Eason's meeting McNutt's Insurance at 4:10. In the second game at 4:35 Curran's will take on Potters Bank and the 5 p. m. finale sends Dawson's against First National Bank.

Both leagues will play a ten-game schedule of two rounds and a tournament will be held at the end of the season.

After games this week, action will not resume again until after the holidays on Jan. 3 and 4.

Wrestling Match Set Thursday Afternoon

The quadrangular wrestling match which was postponed Saturday will be held Thursday at Beaver Local High School. Eliminations will start at 4 p. m. with the finals at 7:30. Schools participating include South Side, Martins Ferry, Beaver Local and East Liverpool.

Falcons, Miami, Ohio U. Top All-Conference Team

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) — Mid - American Conference champion Bowling Green, Miami and Ohio University accounted for 11 of the 13 first team positions on the all-conference football team announced today.

The dream team, selected by the seven Mid-Am coaches, had two ties, at tackle and quarterback.

Bowling Green and Miami each placed four men on the first team and Ohio U., runner-up for the conference crown, had three on the squad.

In addition, Bowling Green's place kicker, Asa Elsea, was given a special award. The senior from Circleville has booted 68 extra points in 74 tries during the past three seasons.

Kent State and Marshall each placed one on the team.

Three of Bowling Green's choices were picked unanimously —guard Gary Sherman, tackle Bob Reynolds and halfback Don Lisbon. Sherman joins Miami tackle Tom Nomina as the only first team repeaters from the 1961 squad.

Twelve of the 13 choices hail from Ohio.

The 1962 All Mid-American Conference team:

FIRST TEAM

ENDS: Bob Jencks, Miami, 6-5, 222, sr. Upper Arlington; Jim Cure, Marshall, 6-1, 184, soph., Gary, W. Va.

TACKLES: Bob Reynolds, Bowling Green, 6-6, 250, sr., Cleveland; (tie) Tom Nomina, Miami, 6-4, 265, sr., Delphos, and Dick Schultz, Ohio U., 6-1, 238, sr., Columbus.

Guards: Gary Sherman, Bowling Green, 5-11, 225, sr., Bellaire; Don Hoovler, Ohio U., 6-2, 220, soph., Pataskala.

CENTER: Ed Bettridge, Bowling Green, 6-0, 220, jr., Sandusky.

QUARTERBACK: (tie) Bob Babbitt, Ohio U., 6-0, 185, sr., Bexley, and Ernie Kellermann, Miami, 6-0, 170, soph., Maple Heights.

HALFBACK: Don Lisbon, Bowling Green, 6-0, 188, sr., Youngstown; Scott Tyler, Miami, 5-10, 180, jr., Cincinnati.

FULLBACK: Dick Mershman, Kent State, 6-0, 197, sr., Delphos.

New Job Hasn't Changed Frank (The Trader) Lane

BALTIMORE (AP)—The switch from baseball to basketball hasn't changed Frank Lane.

As general manager of the Chicago Zephyrs in the National Basketball Association, Lane still is ready to wheel and deal players.

"My trading is restricted now," Lane said as he watched the Zephyrs play the Detroit Pistons in Baltimore's Civic Center Monday night. "But only because I have a lesser number of players to deal."

While serving as general manager of four baseball clubs, Lane had available as trade bait 40 players on each major league roster and approximately another 200 in the minor leagues.

But even a 12-man playing roster in the NBA hasn't dimmed his desire for trading, only the volume.

"I figure I've made about a dozen swaps involving at least 25 players since I joined the Zephyrs on May 1," Lane said. Only four players who finished last season with Chicago are on the current roster, but Lane indicated he wasn't through trading.

"As far as I'm concerned we have only two untouchables—Terry Dischinger and Walt Bellamy."

Dischinger, a part-time player while finishing his studies at Purdue, was not on hand as Detroit scored a 109-100 victory in the only NBA game played Monday night. Bellamy, rookie of the year last season, scored 36 points and hauled down 16 rebounds.

"Of course I miss baseball," Lane said. "After all, my entire life was wrapped up in the game. But this job is exciting, because it's a challenge trying to put over pro basketball in Chicago. We weren't accepted too well last year, but we have a club with good potential and attendance is picking up this season."

1962 Riding Champ Loses 'Bug' Today

NEW YORK (AP) — Jockey Ronnier Ferraro, this year's national riding champion, gains five pounds tonight.

That's when he loses his "bug" —the asterisk on the program denoting the five pound weight allowance granted apprentice jockeys.

"I don't think losing the bug will cost me many mounts," he said by telephone from Pimlico, where he already has broken the track record for winners in a meeting with 42.

"I know some jocks fade out after their apprentice years, but I feel that I can keep on learning and winning."

Ferraro, a 19-year-old Philadelphian, is a bug on learning, even though he quit school in the 11th grade.

"I study the charts of every race I ride," he said. "Then I study the next day's mounts. I enter every horse in my note book, their habits and how they run."

That's a lot of horses. He has surpassed the record total of 1,702 mounts in one year, and still has a busy schedule ahead.

Ferraro had 341 winners going into action today, and has the riding title sewed up. He needs only six more to post the sixth highest winning total in history.

Ferraro, a natural 98-pounder, rode his first winner at Pimlico Nov. 28, 1961 and got his fifth one on Dec. 12. His "bug" runs out a year after the fifth winner, under racing rules.

Boston's Carl Yastrzemski hit into 27 double plays last season, top figure in the American League.

Boosters Net $171 On Sale

Mrs. June Twyford, chairman of the ways and means committee, reported $171.58 realized from a rummage sale held last week when the Lady Potters Boosters Club met Monday night at the YMCA.

The ladies made favors for the banquet to be held Wednesday at 6:30 at the Post 374 home in East End honoring the 1962 Potter football team. Entertainment at the banquet will include dancing by students from the Larry Myers Dance Studio and a skit by members of the football squad.

A gift exchange was held following the business meeting.

Officers will be installed at the next meeting Monday.

Former Yankee pitching star Bob Turley, sold conditionally to the Los Angeles Angels, had a 4.57 earned run average for 69 innings with the Yankees last season.

Ohio State, Minus Lucas, In Thick Of Basketball Race

Bucks Rated Third; Cincy Easily No. 1

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ohio State's flashy Buckeyes jumped right into the thick of contention for college basketball honors but Cincinnati's defending champions easily maintained their lofty station as the nation's No. 1 team in the weekly Associated Press poll today.

As a matter of fact, it was a breeze for the unbeaten Bearcats, who received all but one of the votes cast by a panel of 45 sports writers and sportscasters. The lone first-place vote not garnered by Cincinnati went to the Duke Blue Devils, who were placed second for the second straight week.

Cincinnati gathered 449 out of a possible 450 points on a 10-9-8-7 basis with 44 firsts and one second. Duke piled up a sufficient number of second-place votes to beat out Ohio State for second place with 365 points to the Buckeyes' 212.

Ohio State, which rolled up its fourth straight victory Saturday with a 76-69 whipping of highly-ranked West Virginia, was one of three newcomers to the top ten. The others were Colorado, the defending Big Eight champion, which burst into eighth place and Illinois of the Big Ten, which moved into tenth.

High-scoring Loyola of Chicago clung to its fourth place spot and Mississippi State, preseason co-favorite with Kentucky for the Southeastern Conference crown, remained fifth. West Virginia fell three pegs from third to sixth, Wisconsin skidded a notch to seventh and Oregon State fell two places to ninth.

Indiana, Kentucky and Wichita, which held the last three places in last week's top ten, fell out of the elite group altogether.

Cincinnati, with the same team that won the NCAA crown last year except for Paul Hogue, rolled over George Washington 86-59 Saturday for its fourth victory. Duke remained unbeaten, posting its third victory with a 92-56 rout of Maryland.

Wisconsin Cagers Dealt Big Surprise

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

John Robbins, at 5-feet 8 inches, was the biggest man on the Indiana State campus today after a 22-point performance that further complicated the aspirations of Wisconsin's badgered Badgers.

The Indiana State mighty mite fired in 18 points in the second half as the Sycamores from Terre Haute overcame a 19-point deficit in the final 13 minutes and whipped the nation's seventh-ranked team 87-86 Monday night on the Wisconsin court.

The Badgers built a 12-point halftime lead into a 19-point bulge before they fizzled.

It was the second loss in four games for the veteran Badgers, who played with the same team that finished second to Ohio State in the Big Ten last year. Wisconsin's Ken Siebel took scoring honors with 25 points.

In other games, Southern Illinois toppled Oklahoma 66-63, Missouri knocked off Indiana 52-51, LSU stopped Texas 75-66 and Utah upended Oklahoma City 63-61.

Among the elite, fourth-ranked Loyola of Chicago had little difficulty beating Wisconsin-Milwaukee 107-47 as Jerry Harkness paced the Ramblers to their third consecutive over-100 score with 23 points. And No. 5 Mississippi State walloped Louisiana College 83-59 with Joe Dan Gold pacing the Maroons to their 18th consecutive victory with 20 points.

Bradley and Marquette, two teams looking for a spot in the top ten, managed to stay unbeaten by one point. Mack Herndon scored 31 points but the Braves had to hold off a late Murray State, (Ky.) drive for a 79-78 triumph, while the Warriors edged Kansas State 72-71 when two foul shots by Ron Glaser with a minute, 43 seconds remaining provided the winning margin.

Gotham Bowl Is Facing Big Problems This Year

NEW YORK (AP) — Nebraska and Miami were planning today to go ahead with the Gotham Bowl football game here next Saturday, even though all they are sure of getting out of it-at this stage—is the time of day.

Problems over financial arrangements for the teams, the lack of a television tie-up and a newspaper strike in New York that may doom the game to be played without a publicity build-up, cast a cloud over it.

Bob Curran, director of the game, refused comment on the financial problems, but said he had rented Yankee Stadium and ordered 125 wrist watches for the officials and players.

Nebraska Athletic Director Tippy Dye said he is confident the Bowl will meet its financial commitments and the game will go on.

It is planned for 11 a.m., EST.

Curran's estimated attendance of 30,000 may be optimistic.

Last year's inaugural game between Utah State and Baylor drew less than 15,000.

Miami Athletic Director Jack Harding said he had been assured that a check for "approximately $30,000 would be placed in escrow by Wednesday, according to our agreement."

Dye has asked for a $35,000 deposit "because that's what our expenses will be."

Miami, as it has all year, will depend heavily on the passing of All-America George Mira, the flashy junior quarterback who led the team to a 7-3 mark.

Nebraska had an 8-2 season.

Little Potters League Will Open This Week

The youngsters take to the hardwoods this week when the Little Potters Sixth and Seventh grade leagues open play.

The Sixth graders will launch their season Thursday at the high school gym with the opener at 4:10 pitting American Vit. against Hune Co. In the 4:35 game, Ogilvie's takes the court against Bright's and the 5 p. m. tilt shows Columbiana Finance meeting Coca - Cola.

Friday, the Seventh Grade League opens with Eason's meeting McNutt's Insurance at 4:10. In the second game at 4:35 Curran's will take on Potters Bank and the 5 p. m. finale sends Dawson's against First National Bank.

Both leagues will play a ten-game schedule of two rounds and a tournament will be held at the end of the season.

After games this week, action will not resume again until after the holidays on Jan. 3 and 4.

Wrestling Match Set Thursday Afternoon

The quadrangular wrestling match which was postponed Saturday will be held Thursday at Beaver Local High School. Eliminations will start at 4 p. m. with the finals at 7:30. Schools participating include South Side, Martins Ferry, Beaver Local and East Liverpool.

Baker Compiles 2nd Greatest Yard Total

By The Associated Press

Terry Baker, Oregon State's All-America quarterback, captured the individual total offense title in 1962, compiling the second greatest yard total in college football history.

Final figures released today by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau showed that the Heisman Trophy winner accumulated 2,276 yards, second only to the 2,400 yards amassed by Johnny Bright, the great Drake tailback in 1950.

The 6-3, 191-pound Baker, spearheading Oregon State's T-formation attack, accounted for 1,738 yards passing and 538 yards running. Baker's over-all total is the most ever compiled by a T-formation performer.

The slender, studious Baker, who passes left-handed but kicks right-footed, also accounted for 156 points, the highest total of points responsible for since Billy Austin engineered 164 for Rutgers in 1958. Baker tallied 66 points on 9 touchdowns and 12 conversions and passed for another 90 points with 15 touchdown tosses.

The 1962 total offense runner-up was Eldon Fortie of Brigham Young, the only Far Westerner besides Baker to make the top 15. The Cougar tailback accounted for 1,963 yards.

Pat McCarthy, Holy Cross quarterback, was second to Baker in points accounted for with 146, giving him a 3-year total of 350 points produced, the most since Bright's 384.

Aguirre, Terry, Pascual Share AL Mound Honors

BOSTON (AP)—Southpaw Hank Aguirre of Detroit and right-handers Ralph Terry of the New York Yankees and Camilo Pascual of Minnesota shared honors among American League pitchers the official 1962 records released today revealed.

Aguirre, who became a full-fledged starting pitcher last season, won the earned run title with a 2.21 average. He yielded 53 earned runs in 216 innings while posting a 16-8 record.

Terry won the most games, 23, and was the circuit's workhorse with 299 innings pitched. He also yielded the most home runs, 40.

Pascual, who won 20 games, was the pace-setter in strikeouts, 206, and complete games, 18. He also shared the lead in shutouts with teammate Jim Kaat and Cleveland's Dick Donovan. Each had five.

Aguirre, who did not make his initial 1962 start until May 26, was primarily a reliever in each of his seven previous big league campaigns with Cleveland and Detroit. Last season, he posted two shutouts while capturing the ERA crown by a sizable margin.

Robin Roberts, the veteran righty who made a fine comeback with Baltimore, was runner-up to Aguirre with a 2.78 average. He was followed by Whitey Ford, New York, 2.90; Dean Chance, Los Angeles, 2.96; Ed Fisher, Chicago, 3.10 and Kaat, 3.14.

The other 20-game winners in addition to Terry and Pascual were Ray Herbert, Chicago and Cleveland's Donovan. Herbert had the highest winning percentage, .690 based on his 20-8 record.

Haynes Trails Gilchrist By 129 For Rush Crown

DALLAS (AP)—Abner Haynes, the flying Dallas halfback, needs one of his most productive days if he is to dislodge Cookie Gilchrist, the huge Buffalo line-rammer, from the top in American Football League rushing.

Gilchrist closed out last week with a 143-yard performance against New York for a league record total of 1,096. Haynes, who has another game to play, trails by 129 yards.

Houston's Charley Tolar, the league's busiest ball-carrier, also is within reach but would have to muster a super showing. He is 189 yards behind Gilchrist.

Haynes rolls for the last time against San Diego here Sunday. Tolar's final appearance will be at New York Saturday.

Len Dawson of Dallas leads the passers and should be "in" since the second place man, Babe Parilli of Boston, is out of action and third-place Frank Tripucka of Denver has finished the season.

Lionel Taylor of Denver also appears to have the pass-receiving crown stowed away for the third straight year. Taylor has taken 77 passes for 908 yards and is 14 catches ahead of his nearest competitor—Art Powell of New York.

The scoring championship, however, is still up in the air. Gene Mingo of Denver has wound up with 137 points but is only nine ahead of Gino Cappelletti of Boston, who has a game left. Gilchrist finished with 128 points, the same number Cappelletti has.

Bridges Nets 49 In Steers Narrow Loss

By The Associated Press

Even with Bill Bridges on a red-hot scoring tear, it will be a while before the Kansas City Steers catch the Long Beach Chiefs in the race for first place in the American Basketball League.

Bridges, coming off a 55-point burst that set an ABL season high, scored 49 points Monday night against the Chicago Majors. It turned out he—and the Steers—needed two more.

Mel Davis got them—on a rebound with five seconds left—and the Majors took a 108-107 overtime decision in Kansas City. The loss dropped the second place Steers 1½ games behind the idle Chiefs when a victory would have left them but a half game off the pace.

In the only other game scheduled, Oakland took advantage of the absence of Pittsburgh's scoring ace, Connie Hawkins, and trimmed the Rens 96-93. Hawkins was resting in an Oakland hotel after suffering a head injury in a game with Long Beach on Sunday.

LISBON — Council Monday night accepted the resignation of Roy E. (Ching) Patterson as chief of police, but Mayor Dean Stockman did not appoint a new chief or another policeman as had been scheduled last night.

Patterson will retire Jan. 1 after serving on the force for 17 years. He succeeded Dalton Pike as chief in August and had served as assistant chief previously. At present, there is no assistant chief. Patterson was a councilman for 10 years and street commissioner for five years before being appointed as a policeman.

Other members of the force include Leon Zahrndt, John Varner and Kenneth McKenzie, patrolmen.

The police committee of Council and Mayor Stockman held a closed meeting at the conclusion of Council and the mayor said he will appoint a new chief at Council's next meeting Dec. 27.

In other business, Council decided to allow free parking today through Dec. 25 for Christmas shoppers.

Proposed purchase of snow treads for the new street department truck was rejected as the cost would be too great. The present tires are like new. Councilman Raymond Dixon said unless a set of four was purchased it would be much better to use chains on their present tires as only two snow grips would not help much.

Council agreed, however, it might trade in the regular tires on four snow grips if the cost is not too great.

Council also discussed breakdown of the new truck Friday while plowing snow. The truck was only purchased a little over a month ago and the reverse gear was destroyed while plowing.

The gear was replaced without charge by the Chevrolet Motor Co. as part of the guarantee.

Clerk-Treasurer Ray Hempstead reported on village finances, compared to last year. He said that as of Nov. 30 the village had $5,900 in the general fund and last year at this time had $12,500. If spending equals that of last year, the fund will be "in the red" by about $5,000 March 1963.

The village will receive extra money in 1963 from the 3-mill operating levy approved at the election.

Cortney Pennell, manager of the Ohio Fuel & Gas Co. of Lisbon, reported on the company's improvement the past summer. He said 187 feet of 2-inch pipe was installed on Pine St., 307 feet of 4-inch on Pritchard Ave. The firm will replace 445 feet on Jerome St. when the weather gets better. He said these installation have improved gas service in Lisbon and there has not been any drop in pressure in any line in connection with the current cold weather.

He said gas being pumped out of storage in Columbiana County is used to keep the supply regulated in all areas of the village.

City Solicitor Joseph Baronzzi reported on his negotiations for land for the new bridge over S. Market St. into Jordonville. County commissioners agreed to replace the present bridge as being inadequate.

Council's next regular meeting night falls on Christmas Eve so the final session of 1962 will be held on Dec. 27 at 7:30 p.m.

New Officers To Begin Medical Group Duties

Dr. Virgil C. Hart of Salem, president-elect, and other new officers of the Columbiana County Medical Society will begin duties at the Jan. 15 meeting.

Dr. Hart succeeds Dr. Fred Banfield of Highland Colony. Other officers are Dr. Janis Lauva of Wellsville, vice president, and Dr. Peter Cibula of Lisbon, secretary-treasurer.

Dr. John Fraser of East Liverpool will serve as delegate to the state and national medical societies. Dr. L. S. Pritchard of Columbiana is alternate.

13 Adults, 3 Children Will Become Citizens

LISBON — Sixteen Columbiana County residents — 13 adults and three children — will receive naturalization papers Wednesday at 1:30 p. m. in Common Pleas Court.

Either Judge Joel H. Sharp or Judge Raymond S. Buzzard will welcome the group in Common Pleas Court and explain their responsibilities and duties. The oath of citizenship will be administered by Clerk of Courts Carl L. Stacey Jr.

Club To See Film

LISBON — A film on "Telstar" will be shown Thursday noon at the Kiwanis Club luncheon at the Daughters of America Lodge. The film is provided by the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. Atty. George Lafferty is program chairman.

Paintings Win Prizes

B-52 Pilot Also Is Artist

A full-time Air Force pilot and part-time artist, Capt. Daniel J. Bigelow, a former East Liverpool man, displays two paintings that recently won top prizes in western exhibits.

Capt. Bigelow is shown holding an oil painting entitled "Blood and Dust" which was chosen "best of show" in the Rapid City (S. D.) Art Association's eighth annual fall exhibit, while the water color at the right, "The Old Apple House," took top awards at both the Black Hills Exposition and the South Dakota State Fair.

Capt. Bigelow, a B-52 pilot stationed at Ellsworth Air Force Base, S. D., is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond J. Bigelow of Negley R. D. 1, former city residents.

A graduate of East Liverpool High School, he entered the service in 1957 after receiving his bachelor of fine arts degree at Kent State University.

He is married to the former Elizabeth J. Allison of Northside Ave.

British Take Brunei Town, Press Rebels

ANDUKI AIRPORT, Brunei (AP)—British troops recaptured most of the Brunei oilfield town of Seria today, then closed in on the police station where 50 die-hard rebels were holding nine Europeans as hostages.

The nationality of the hostages was not known, but Brig. A. G. Patterson, British commander of the Seria operation, said no women or children were among them.

Army officers said a number of Europeans, mostly British employes of the Shell Oil Co., were liberated in Seria, and at least six rebels were killed and more than a dozen captured. No British casualties were reported.

It was the first major counter-attack since the revolt broke out Saturday.

The rebels say they want to create an independent country on the north coast of Borneo out of the Brunei Sultanate and the neighboring British colonies of North Borneo and Sarawak.

There were no reports of damage to the oil fields at Seria. The rebels had threatened to sabotage them if they were attacked.

Kuala Belait, another oil field seven miles to the west, was still believed to be in rebel hands. Shell's administrative center is there. A flight over the area showed no damage, and smoke curled peacefully from one industrial plant.

The total killed in the four-day rebellion is believed to be more than 40, including 26 rebels.

Courthouse Officials Attend State Sessions

LISBON — Columbiana County Commissioners Galen Greenisen, Frank Wilson and Walter Hunston and Rex Reich, clerk, are attending the Ohio Commissioners Association convention in Columbus.

Auditor Kenneth Bell and Mrs. Helen Cavanaugh, clerk, attended the auditors convention in Columbus last week when he was named vice president of the Northeast Area, which includes 22 counties. He served as secretary-treasurer of the group the past year.

Louis Kramer of Columbiana, county sealer of weights and measures, also attended the state convention last week.

Township Trustees Air Snow Problems

Snow removal in St. Clair Township was discussed by the trustees and some eight residents at a meeting Monday night.

Trustees said roads were cleared over the weekend but many had drifted again, posing additional problems. Requests for slag on icy roads were received before other roads were cleared, they said.

Extra help had to be obtained to clear roads in the Echo Dell and Spruceville areas. The township has two trucks with snow plow attachments and a grader.

It's usually wise to cool cookie and cake pans before washing them in soapy water.

Installation Held By Calcutta Club

New officers of the East Liverpool - Calcutta Ruritan Club were installed Monday night at the Calcutta Grange Hall when the group also held a Christmas party and gift exchange.

James Baxter, Ohio District governor, installed John Geren as president; Jerry Steele, vice president; William Whiteman, secretary, and Hal Emerson, treasurer.

A musical program was presented by Beaver Local High School students. Ladies' Night was observed.

Carol Sing Held By Dahlia Group

Demonstrations and carol singing highlighted the meeting of the East Liverpool Dahlia and Floral Society Monday night at the Potters Savings & Loan Co. annex.

Participating in the discussion of tuber surgery to remove stalk decay, winter protection of plants, care and planting of live Christmas trees and care of poinsettias were William Crawford, J. T. Eccleston and Louis Groglode.

Cards were sent to H. J. Gallimore and George Frese of Aliquippa who have been ill. Leo C. Lawrence, president, presided.

Carol singing was led by Frank Richmond. Lunch was served by William Haugh and Charles Glover.

Lisbon Water Official Cited In Truck Crash

LISBON — Ernest L. Reisinger, 62, water department superintendent, was cited following a collision of the department's pickup truck and a car on the Elk Hill intersection at Pritchard Ave. Monday at 4:05 p. m.

The truck skidded into the car of George Tracy, 54, of R. D. 3, according to Police Chief Roy Patterson, who cited Reisinger on a charge of failure to yield the right - of - way. He posted $15 appearance bond.

Enrollment For Hancock School Gains

Reflecting what is considered "normal" growth, Hancock County's school system has 202 more pupils attending classes this year than in the 1961-62 term, while there is even a larger number transported by school buses.

Supt. Robert H. Hall made that report to the County Board of Education Monday night in New Cumberland in connection with submitting figures to the State Department of Education to be used in computation of state aid.

This year's enrollment shows 8,369 pupils, compared to 8,167 last year, Supt. Hall told the board. The increase of 202 is considered normal growth for the county system, he added.

The county transports 3,813 pupils in 24 buses this year, an increase of 233 over the 3,580 hauled last year.

Supt. Hall attributed the increase in the number of pupils riding board - owned buses to suburban development, largely in the Weirton area.

The increase in pupil enrollment qualifies the county system for an increase in state aid of $24,000, but only $12,000 is expected because a statewide growth will probably diminish the State Legislature's particular fund set aside for classroom increases.

The board received $904,000 in state aid last year and probably will not learn until early in March the size of its next allotment. The amount is determined by the Legislature.

The board also received a report from the state fire marshal's office in Charleston, pointing out that the county had complied with 12 recommendations made last year.

Thirteen recommendations were not met, and the fire marshal tacked on another 14 new recommendations for a total of 27 for action. Supt. Hall pointed out the figures change constantly and meeting all the requirements is virtually impossible. With no official code to follow, the inspector apparently devises his own check-list from year to year.

In other business, the board acted on various requests from principals in the county system.

The Wells High School Band was authorized to participate in Newell's annual Christmas parade Dec. 19.

Carl R. Hamill, director of secondary physical education, was authorized to attend a convention of the American Association of Health, Physical Education and recreation officials in Chicago April 6-9.

Miss Betty Lou Virtue of Weir High School was authorized to attend a conference of the Southern Division Music Education group March 20-22 in Charleston.

The board accepted the resignation of Mrs. Gwendolyn Major, veteran principal of Dunbar School in Weirton, who is retiring.

Next meeting is Jan. 7 and the board will reorganize for the new year, electing officers. John Paul Jones of New Cumberland will assume the seat on the board presently occupied by J. Fred Allison of Newell. Dr. W. Dale Williams is president.

Thant Ready For Boycott Of Katanga

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —U. Thant, U.N. secretary-general, appeared ready today to seek a trade boycott to end Katanga's secession.

Robert K. A. Gardiner, U.N. chief in the Congo, warned Katanga President Moise Tshombe Monday that Thant is determined to carry out his plan for Congo unity and will call on U.N. member states to bring a halt to what he called Tshombe's policy of "secession and civil war."

Gardiner warned that the U.N. force in the Congo will use its weapons "vigorously whenever and wherever it may be attacked."

Gardiner said the secretary-general will call on U.N. members "for actions of various kinds" to force Tshombe to join forces with the Congo government in Leopoldville.

Thant warned previously that he would call for an economic boycott of Katanga's copper and cobalt exports unless Tshombe agrees to his plan to bring the province under Leopoldville with a 50-50 split of the rich royalties and taxes from the European-owned Union Miniere complex.

The United States has resumed airlift operations in the Congo at Thant's request and has been shuttling vehicles to the U.N. force stationed in Elisabethville. U.N. officials said that extra U.N. troops also could be flown quickly to the Katanga capital if needed.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Urban Renewal Administration has announced it will advanced $121,433 to Athens, Ohio, to enable that city to start survey and planning activities for its 34-acre South Green slum clearance project.

Heater Unit Trial Planned At Salineville

SALINEVILLE — A six-month trial of a new burner unit in the Village Hall heating system was authorized by Council Monday night.

A representative of the Smith Heating Co. of East Liverpool said the firm will install a new unit for six months, and if it proves unsatisfactory, the present unit will be reinstalled without charge.

The representative said the new unit, which would cost $375 if purchased, will save a third of the Village Hall heating costs which ran $795 last year and which officials have indicated are excessive.

Plans were discussed for the finance committee to meet with a representative of the Charles Hinsch Co., a bonding concern, about financing of the proposed sewage disposal plant for the community. The meeting will be held in January.

Discussion was held on street conditions. Mayor Stanley Fitch suggested the street committee and foremen meet with him next week for a conference on street work and policies.

The safety committee and Mayor Fitch will also meet next week.

Mayor Fitch reported Pete Growall, street foreman, performed some snow clearance and road work yesterday for Washington Township when the township truck became disabled. Mayor Fitch said this was done on an exchange basis.

Discussion was held on opening of bids for a new street truck Dec. 21. Mayor Fitch proposed the present truck be kept instead of being traded, and that a tank be mounted on it for use in oiling streets during the summer.

Councilman Donald Lewis proposed a meeting of Council, the Board of Public Affairs and the Southern Local Board of Education be held before Jan. 1 to air various problems and common interests. Mayor Fitch said he would undertake to schedule such a meeting.

Baker Compiles 2nd Greatest Yard Total

By The Associated Press

Terry Baker, Oregon State's All-America quarterback, captured the individual total offense title in 1962, compiling the second greatest yard total in college football history.

Final figures released today by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau showed that the Heisman Trophy winner accumulated 2,276 yards, second only to the 2,400 yards amassed by Johnny Bright, the great Drake tailback in 1950.

The 6-3, 191-pound Baker, spearheading Oregon State's T-formation attack, accounted for 1,738 yards passing and 538 yards running. Baker's over-all total is the most ever compiled by a T-formation performer.

The slender, studious Baker, who passes left-handed but kicks right-footed, also accounted for 156 points, the highest total of points responsible for since Billy Austin engineered 164 for Rutgers in 1958. Baker tallied 66 points on 9 touchdowns and 12 conversions and passed for another 90 points with 15 touchdown tosses.

The 1962 total offense runner-up was Eldon Fortie of Brigham Young, the only Far Westerner besides Baker to make the top 15. The Cougar tailback accounted for 1,963 yards.

Pat McCarthy, Holy Cross quarterback, was second to Baker in points accounted for with 146, giving him a 3-year total of 350 points produced, the most since Bright's 384.

Aguirre, Terry, Pascual Share AL Mound Honors

BOSTON (AP)—Southpaw Hank Aguirre of Detroit and right-handers Ralph Terry of the New York Yankees and Camilo Pascual of Minnesota shared honors among American League pitchers the official 1962 records released today revealed.

Aguirre, who became a full-fledged starting pitcher last season, won the earned run title with a 2.21 average. He yielded 53 earned runs in 216 innings while posting a 16-8 record.

Terry won the most games, 23, and was the circuit's workhorse with 299 innings pitched. He also yielded the most home runs, 40.

Pascual, who won 20 games, was the pace-setter in strikeouts, 206, and complete games, 18. He also shared the lead in shutouts with teammate Jim Kaat and Cleveland's Dick Donovan. Each had five.

Aguirre, who did not make his initial 1962 start until May 26, was primarily a reliever in each of his seven previous big league campaigns with Cleveland and Detroit. Last season, he posted two shutouts while capturing the ERA crown by a sizable margin.

Robin Roberts, the veteran righty who made a fine comeback with Baltimore, was runner-up to Aguirre with a 2.78 average. He was followed by Whitey Ford, New York, 2.90; Dean Chance, Los Angeles, 2.96; Ed Fisher, Chicago, 3.10 and Kaat, 3.14.

The other 20-game winners in addition to Terry and Pascual were Ray Herbert, Chicago and Cleveland's Donovan. Herbert had the highest winning percentage, .690 based on his 20-8 record.

Haynes Trails Gilchrist By 129 For Rush Crown

DALLAS (AP)—Abner Haynes, the flying Dallas halfback, needs one of his most productive days if he is to dislodge Cookie Gilchrist, the huge Buffalo line-rammer, from the top in American Football League rushing.

Gilchrist closed out last week with a 143-yard performance against New York for a league record total of 1,096. Haynes, who has another game to play, trails by 129 yards.

Houston's Charley Tolar, the league's busiest ball-carrier, also is within reach but would have to muster a super showing. He is 189 yards behind Gilchrist.

Haynes rolls for the last time against San Diego here Sunday. Tolar's final appearance will be at New York Saturday.

Len Dawson of Dallas leads the passers and should be "in" since the second place man, Babe Parilli of Boston, is out of action and third-place Frank Tripucka of Denver has finished the season.

Lionel Taylor of Denver also appears to have the pass-receiving crown stowed away for the third straight year. Taylor has taken 77 passes for 908 yards and is 14 catches ahead of his nearest competitor—Art Powell of New York.

The scoring championship, however, is still up in the air. Gene Mingo of Denver has wound up with 137 points but is only nine ahead of Gino Cappelletti of Boston, who has a game left. Gilchrist finished with 128 points, the same number Cappelletti has.

Council also discussed breakdown of the new truck Friday while plowing snow. The truck was only purchased a little over a month ago and the reverse gear was destroyed while plowing.

The gear was replaced without charge by the Chevrolet Motor Co. as part of the guarantee.

Clerk-Treasurer Ray Hempstead reported on village finances, compared to last year. He said that as of Nov. 30 the village had $5,900 in the general fund and last year at this time had $12,500. If spending equals that of last year, the fund will be "in the red" by about $5,000 March 1963.

The village will receive extra money in 1963 from the 3-mill operating levy approved at the election.

Cortney Pennell, manager of the Ohio Fuel & Gas Co. of Lisbon, reported on the company's improvement the past summer. He said 187 feet of 2-inch pipe was installed on Pine St., 307 feet of 4-inch on Pritchard Ave. The firm will replace 445 feet on Jerome St. when the weather gets better. He said these installation have improved gas service in Lisbon and there has not been any drop in pressure in any line in connection with the current cold weather.

He said gas being pumped out of storage in Columbiana County is used to keep the supply regulated in all areas of the village.

City Solicitor Joseph Baronzzi reported on his negotiations for land for the new bridge over S. Market St. into Jordonville. County commissioners agreed to replace the present bridge as being inadequate.

Council's next regular meeting night falls on Christmas Eve so the final session of 1962 will be held on Dec. 27 at 7:30 p.m.

New Officers To Begin Medical Group Duties

Dr. Virgil C. Hart of Salem, president-elect, and other new officers of the Columbiana County Medical Society will begin duties at the Jan. 15 meeting.

Dr. Hart succeeds Dr. Fred Banfield of Highland Colony. Other officers are Dr. Janis Lauva of Wellsville, vice president, and Dr. Peter Cibula of Lisbon, secretary-treasurer.

Dr. John Fraser of East Liverpool will serve as delegate to the state and national medical societies. Dr. L. S. Pritchard of Columbiana is alternate.

13 Adults, 3 Children Will Become Citizens

LISBON — Sixteen Columbiana County residents — 13 adults and three children — will receive naturalization papers Wednesday at 1:30 p. m. in Common Pleas Court.

Either Judge Joel H. Sharp or Judge Raymond S. Buzzard will welcome the group in Common Pleas Court and explain their responsibilities and duties. The oath of citizenship will be administered by Clerk of Courts Carl L. Stacey Jr.

Club To See Film

LISBON — A film on "Telstar" will be shown Thursday noon at the Kiwanis Club luncheon at the Daughters of America Lodge. The film is provided by the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. Atty. George Lafferty is program chairman.

Paintings Win Prizes

B-52 Pilot Also Is Artist

A full-time Air Force pilot and part-time artist, Capt. Daniel J. Bigelow, a former East Liverpool man, displays two paintings that recently won top prizes in western exhibits.

Capt. Bigelow is shown holding an oil painting entitled "Blood and Dust" which was chosen "best of show" in the Rapid City (S. D.) Art Association's eighth annual fall exhibit, while the water color at the right, "The Old Apple House," took top awards at both the Black Hills Exposition and the South Dakota State Fair.

Capt. Bigelow, a B-52 pilot stationed at Ellsworth Air Force Base, S. D., is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond J. Bigelow of Negley R. D. 1, former city residents.

A graduate of East Liverpool High School, he entered the service in 1957 after receiving his bachelor of fine arts degree at Kent State University.

He is married to the former Elizabeth J. Allison of Northside Ave.

British Take Brunei Town, Press Rebels

ANDUKI AIRPORT, Brunei (AP)—British troops recaptured most of the Brunei oilfield town of Seria today, then closed in on the police station where 50 die-hard rebels were holding nine Europeans as hostages.

The nationality of the hostages was not known, but Brig. A. G. Patterson, British commander of the Seria operation, said no women or children were among them.

Army officers said a number of Europeans, mostly British employes of the Shell Oil Co., were liberated in Seria, and at least six rebels were killed and more than a dozen captured. No British casualties were reported.

It was the first major counter-attack since the revolt broke out Saturday.

The rebels say they want to create an independent country on the north coast of Borneo out of the Brunei Sultanate and the neighboring British colonies of North Borneo and Sarawak.

There were no reports of damage to the oil fields at Seria. The rebels had threatened to sabotage them if they were attacked.

Kuala Belait, another oil field seven miles to the west, was still believed to be in rebel hands. Shell's administrative center is there. A flight over the area showed no damage, and smoke curled peacefully from one industrial plant.

The total killed in the four-day rebellion is believed to be more than 40, including 26 rebels.

Courthouse Officials Attend State Sessions

LISBON — Columbiana County Commissioners Galen Greenisen, Frank Wilson and Walter Hunston and Rex Reich, clerk, are attending the Ohio Commissioners Association convention in Columbus.

Auditor Kenneth Bell and Mrs. Helen Cavanaugh, clerk, attended the auditors convention in Columbus last week when he was named vice president of the Northeast Area, which includes 22 counties. He served as secretary-treasurer of the group the past year.

Louis Kramer of Columbiana, county sealer of weights and measures, also attended the state convention last week.

Township Trustees Air Snow Problems

Snow removal in St. Clair Township was discussed by the trustees and some eight residents at a meeting Monday night.

Trustees said roads were cleared over the weekend but many had drifted again, posing additional problems. Requests for slag on icy roads were received before other roads were cleared, they said.

Extra help had to be obtained to clear roads in the Echo Dell and Spruceville areas. The township has two trucks with snow plow attachments and a grader.

It's usually wise to cool cookie and cake pans before washing them in soapy water.

Installation Held By Calcutta Club

New officers of the East Liverpool - Calcutta Ruritan Club were installed Monday night at the Calcutta Grange Hall when the group also held a Christmas party and gift exchange.

James Baxter, Ohio District governor, installed John Geren as president; Jerry Steele, vice president; William Whiteman, secretary, and Hal Emerson, treasurer.

A musical program was presented by Beaver Local High School students. Ladies' Night was observed.

Carol Sing Held By Dahlia Group

Demonstrations and carol singing highlighted the meeting of the East Liverpool Dahlia and Floral Society Monday night at the Potters Savings & Loan Co. annex.

Participating in the discussion of tuber surgery to remove stalk decay, winter protection of plants, care and planting of live Christmas trees and care of poinsettias were William Crawford, J. T. Eccleston and Louis Groglode.

Cards were sent to H. J. Gallimore and George Frese of Aliquippa who have been ill. Leo C. Lawrence, president, presided.

Carol singing was led by Frank Richmond. Lunch was served by William Haugh and Charles Glover.

Lisbon Water Official Cited In Truck Crash

LISBON — Ernest L. Reisinger, 62, water department superintendent, was cited following a collision of the department's pickup truck and a car on the Elk Hill intersection at Pritchard Ave. Monday at 4:05 p. m.

The truck skidded into the car of George Tracy, 54, of R. D. 3, according to Police Chief Roy Patterson, who cited Reisinger on a charge of failure to yield the right - of - way. He posted $15 appearance bond.

Enrollment For Hancock School Gains

Reflecting what is considered "normal" growth, Hancock County's school system has 202 more pupils attending classes this year than in the 1961-62 term, while there is even a larger number transported by school buses.

Supt. Robert H. Hall made that report to the County Board of Education Monday night in New Cumberland in connection with submitting figures to the State Department of Education to be used in computation of state aid.

This year's enrollment shows 8,369 pupils, compared to 8,167 last year, Supt. Hall told the board. The increase of 202 is considered normal growth for the county system, he added.

The county transports 3,813 pupils in 24 buses this year, an increase of 233 over the 3,580 hauled last year.

Supt. Hall attributed the increase in the number of pupils riding board - owned buses to suburban development, largely in the Weirton area.

The increase in pupil enrollment qualifies the county system for an increase in state aid of $24,000, but only $12,000 is expected because a statewide growth will probably diminish the State Legislature's particular fund set aside for classroom increases.

The board received $904,000 in state aid last year and probably will not learn until early in March the size of its next allotment. The amount is determined by the Legislature.

The board also received a report from the state fire marshal's office in Charleston, pointing out that the county had complied with 12 recommendations made last year.

Thirteen recommendations were not met, and the fire marshal tacked on another 14 new recommendations for a total of 27 for action. Supt. Hall pointed out the figures change constantly and meeting all the requirements is virtually impossible. With no official code to follow, the inspector apparently devises his own check-list from year to year.

In other business, the board acted on various requests from principals in the county system.

The Wells High School Band was authorized to participate in Newell's annual Christmas parade Dec. 19.

Carl R. Hamill, director of secondary physical education, was authorized to attend a convention of the American Association of Health, Physical Education and recreation officials in Chicago April 6-9.

Miss Betty Lou Virtue of Weir High School was authorized to attend a conference of the Southern Division Music Education group March 20-22 in Charleston.

The board accepted the resignation of Mrs. Gwendolyn Major, veteran principal of Dunbar School in Weirton, who is retiring.

Next meeting is Jan. 7 and the board will reorganize for the new year, electing officers. John Paul Jones of New Cumberland will assume the seat on the board presently occupied by J. Fred Allison of Newell. Dr. W. Dale Williams is president.

Thant Ready For Boycott Of Katanga

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —U. Thant, U.N. secretary-general, appeared ready today to seek a trade boycott to end Katanga's secession.

Robert K. A. Gardiner, U.N. chief in the Congo, warned Katanga President Moise Tshombe Monday that Thant is determined to carry out his plan for Congo unity and will call on U.N. member states to bring a halt to what he called Tshombe's policy of "secession and civil war."

Gardiner warned that the U.N. force in the Congo will use its weapons "vigorously whenever and wherever it may be attacked."

Gardiner said the secretary-general will call on U.N. members "for actions of various kinds" to force Tshombe to join forces with the Congo government in Leopoldville.

Thant warned previously that he would call for an economic boycott of Katanga's copper and cobalt exports unless Tshombe agrees to his plan to bring the province under Leopoldville with a 50-50 split of the rich royalties and taxes from the European-owned Union Miniere complex.

The United States has resumed airlift operations in the Congo at Thant's request and has been shuttling vehicles to the U.N. force stationed in Elisabethville. U.N. officials said that extra U.N. troops also could be flown quickly to the Katanga capital if needed.

Due $121,433 Grant

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Urban Renewal Administration has announced it will advanced $121,433 to Athens, Ohio, to enable that city to start survey and planning activities for its 34-acre South Green slum clearance project.

Heater Unit Trial Planned At Salineville

SALINEVILLE — A six-month trial of a new burner unit in the Village Hall heating system was authorized by Council Monday night.

A representative of the Smith Heating Co. of East Liverpool said the firm will install a new unit for six months, and if it proves unsatisfactory, the present unit will be reinstalled without charge.

The representative said the new unit, which would cost $375 if purchased, will save a third of the Village Hall heating costs which ran $795 last year and which officials have indicated are excessive.

Plans were discussed for the finance committee to meet with a representative of the Charles Hinsch Co., a bonding concern, about financing of the proposed sewage disposal plant for the community. The meeting will be held in January.

Discussion was held on street conditions. Mayor Stanley Fitch suggested the street committee and foremen meet with him next week for a conference on street work and policies.

The safety committee and Mayor Fitch will also meet next week.

Mayor Fitch reported Pete Growall, street foreman, performed some snow clearance and road work yesterday for Washington Township when the township truck became disabled. Mayor Fitch said this was done on an exchange basis.

Discussion was held on opening of bids for a new street truck Dec. 21. Mayor Fitch proposed the present truck be kept instead of being traded, and that a tank be mounted on it for use in oiling streets during the summer.

Councilman Donald Lewis proposed a meeting of Council, the Board of Public Affairs and the Southern Local Board of Education be held before Jan. 1 to air various problems and common interests. Mayor Fitch said he would undertake to schedule such a meeting.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

You Should Know Child's Whereabouts

Some parents who have supposed they were amply protective of their son or daughter have suddenly discovered that he or she had often been at places other than the parents had supposed. These parents may be amazed at how long they had thus been deceived. To illustrate, the child, supposed to be attending a club or Scout meeting regularly or have remained late at school to be at choir or band practice, may be discovered to have been at other places. Or at home serving as a babysitter, the youth may have friends there while on duty or go some place with them without the parents' knowledge. A boy or girl may be supposed to be up at Mary's home, or Jim's, when not there.

Dr. Garry Meyers

THOUGH CHILDREN at any age may be tempted to deceive parents in all sorts of ways, the urge may be especially strong just before or in the early teen years, especially with girls who so strongly desire to be where some boys are.

With some doubts arising, the parent may do considerable questioning. Such questioning, however, may only encourage more deception in the suspected child. Where such doubts arise, some actual checking is far wiser than questioning.

Indeed some wise parents don't wait for strong doubts to arise before they do some checking.

If the child, 10 to 14, is not taken to such meetings as we have named and called for by a responsible adult, the wise parent occasionally drops in at the stated meeting with an attitude of being interested in the activity more than to check.

—:—

THE CHILD NOTICING such procedure has many a temptation to deceive removed. And if the parent has doubts, such irregular checking should be the more desirable.

Over a period when a child is babysitting, the wise parent may drop in occasionally to see the child on the job, even to call for her now and then. The purpose should not only be to remove temptation to deceive but also to make sure this child is doing a conscientious job at babysitting.

Of course there is danger of suggesting undue suspicion of the child and of seeming distrustful. All this needs to be done with skill, wisdom and good sense.

My bulletin, "Honesty and Truthfulness in Children," may be had by sending a self - addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Muscle-Toning Aids Return To Style

Ida Jean Kain

There is a natural reluctance toward taking exercise. Perhaps you think the amount of exercise required to make much of a change would take more time and effort than you can spare. Well, would you be willing to exercise for six minutes a day, six days a week? If you are, you can work a miracle.

Contract a muscle, or a group of muscles and you are on your way to firmness and a neat, sweet figure. And here's a happy thought, with toned muscles you will be able to weigh slightly more yet take a smaller size than you could with flabby muscles.

TONED MUSCLES make for smooth lines. Flabby muscles sag and bulk out. Moreover, soft muscles invite fat. As muscles lose tone, fat tends to infiltrate. As muscle tissue is built up, fat tends to go down.

Free swinging calisthenics rouse the circulation, but such exercise is not toning. It's the held muscle contraction that does the toning. Scientifically this kind of exercise is termed isometric contraction.

Physiologically, this means the contraction of a muscle against equal resistance, such as you do when you pit one set of muscles against another.

So effective are resistance exercises that six minutes a day, six days a week will enable you to increase muscle tone by 5 per cent in a single week.

Start with the middle muscles: Lie flat on back, legs straight down, palms resting on thighs. Action: Contract with the middle muscles by pulling up-an-in firmly.

Hold the contraction as you raise head and shoulders off floor and look at both feet which are also raised off floor only six inches. Hold to count of six and repeat six times.

This contraction restores tone to the long front muscles. The second exercise tones the side-front muscles.

—:—

Holding the muscle contraction works toning magic. Try it!

Send a stamped, self-addressed long envelope for "Away With Middle Spread." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain in care of The Review. Post cards requests cannot be answered.

WVU President Asks Legislation On Building Plan

CHARLESTON (AP) — West Virginia University President Paul A. Miller advocated legislation Monday which would begin financing of a proposed $23 million building program at the university over the next 10 years.

Miller suggested the legislation to the Legislature's between sessions study committees which are drafting bills for introduction during the 60-day session beginning January 9.

Miller asked that the $50-a-semester registration fee charged all students be devoted entirely to capital improvement funds for all colleges and the two state universities.

He also requested that governing boards of colleges and universities be permitted to issue bonds against capital improvement funds and that a yearly $200 registration fee be charged out-of-state students attending WVU.

West Virginia University would like to use the added money in its capital improvements to finance a $1,111,250 forestry facility and a $1,600,000 million cultural arts center, Miller explained.

He also said the other long - range improvements, including a $4 million university center and $5 million in student residence halls could be financed through issuance of revenue bonds if present laws are changed.

Ohio Valley Has 80% Treatment Of River Sewage

CINCINNATI (AP) — The sewage from more than 80 per cent of the Ohio Valley's 11.5 million inhabitants who have sewers now is treated before it is dumped into streams, the Ohio River Valley Water Sanitation Commission (ORSANCO) reported today.

When plants now under construction are finished, this will be so for 10,349,671 people—or 90.3 per cent of the population.

The commission noted in its annual report that such facilities existed for only 38 per cent of the population in 1948 when eight states banded together to form ORSANCO.

The report to governors of the eight states — Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia — noted that 586 of 1,730 municipalities in the valley still have no waste treatment facilities. These communities have a population of 1,112,922.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

You Should Know Child's Whereabouts

Some parents who have supposed they were amply protective of their son or daughter have suddenly discovered that he or she had often been at places other than the parents had supposed. These parents may be amazed at how long they had thus been deceived. To illustrate, the child, supposed to be attending a club or Scout meeting regularly or have remained late at school to be at choir or band practice, may be discovered to have been at other places. Or at home serving as a babysitter, the youth may have friends there while on duty or go some place with them without the parents' knowledge. A boy or girl may be supposed to be up at Mary's home, or Jim's, when not there.

THOUGH CHILDREN at any age may be tempted to deceive parents in all sorts of ways, the urge may be especially strong just before or in the early teen years, especially with girls who so strongly desire to be where some boys are.

With some doubts arising, the parent may do considerable questioning. Such questioning, however, may only encourage more deception in the suspected child. Where such doubts arise, some actual checking is far wiser than questioning.

Indeed some wise parents don't wait for strong doubts to arise before they do some checking.

If the child, 10 to 14, is not taken to such meetings as we have named and called for by a responsible adult, the wise parent occasionally drops in at the stated meeting with an attitude of being interested in the activity more than to check.

—:—

THE CHILD NOTICING such procedure has many a temptation to deceive removed. And if the parent has doubts, such irregular checking should be the more desirable.

Over a period when a child is babysitting, the wise parent may drop in occasionally to see the child on the job, even to call for her now and then. The purpose should not only be to remove temptation to deceive but also to make sure this child is doing a conscientious job at babysitting.

Of course there is danger of suggesting undue suspicion of the child and of seeming distrustful. All this needs to be done with skill, wisdom and good sense.

My bulletin, "Honesty and Truthfulness in Children," may be had by sending a self - addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Keep In Trim

Muscle-Toning Aids Return To Style

The familiary lament "nothing fit to wear" often means your clothes no longer fit beautifully. Why? Could it be your figure has gone soft at the boundary lines? A little contraction exercises could put you smartly back in style in your present wardrobe.

Ida Jean Kain

There is a natural reluctance toward taking exercise. Perhaps you think the amount of exercise required to make much of a change would take more time and effort than you can spare. Well, would you be willing to exercise for six minutes a day, six days a week? If you are, you can work a miracle.

Contract a muscle, or a group of muscles and you are on your way to firmness and a neat, sweet figure. And here's a happy thought, with toned muscles you will be able to weigh slightly more yet take a smaller size than you could with flabby muscles.

TONED MUSCLES make for smooth lines. Flabby muscles sag and bulk out. Moreover, soft muscles invite fat. As muscles lose tone, fat tends to infiltrate. As muscle tissue is built up, fat tends to go down.

Free swinging calisthenics rouse the circulation, but such exercise is not toning. It's the held muscle contraction that does the toning. Scientifically this kind of exercise is termed isometric contraction.

Physiologically, this means the contraction of a muscle against equal resistance, such as you do when you pit one set of muscles against another.

So effective are resistance exercises that six minutes a day, six days a week will enable you to increase muscle tone by 5 per cent in a single week.

Start with the middle muscles: Lie flat on back, legs straight down, palms resting on thighs. Action: Contract with the middle muscles by pulling up-an-in firmly.

Hold the contraction as you raise head and shoulders off floor and look at both feet which are also raised off floor only six inches. Hold to count of six and repeat six times.

This contraction restores tone to the long front muscles. The second exercise tones the side-front muscles.

Position: Lie on back on floor, knees bent, soles of feet flat on floor. Press small of back against floor. Have palms of both hands resting on left thighline.

—:—

Holding the muscle contraction works toning magic. Try it!

Send a stamped, self-addressed long envelope for "Away With Middle Spread." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain in care of The Review. Post cards requests cannot be answered.

WVU President Asks Legislation On Building Plan

CHARLESTON (AP) — West Virginia University President Paul A. Miller advocated legislation Monday which would begin financing of a proposed $23 million building program at the university over the next 10 years.

Miller suggested the legislation to the Legislature's between sessions study committees which are drafting bills for introduction during the 60-day session beginning January 9.

Miller asked that the $50-a-semester registration fee charged all students be devoted entirely to capital improvement funds for all colleges and the two state universities.

He also requested that governing boards of colleges and universities be permitted to issue bonds against capital improvement funds and that a yearly $200 registration fee be charged out-of-state students attending WVU.

West Virginia University would like to use the added money in its capital improvements to finance a $1,111,250 forestry facility and a $1,600,000 million cultural arts center, Miller explained.

He also said the other long - range improvements, including a $4 million university center and $5 million in student residence halls could be financed through issuance of revenue bonds if present laws are changed.

Ohio Valley Has 80% Treatment Of River Sewage

CINCINNATI (AP) — The sewage from more than 80 per cent of the Ohio Valley's 11.5 million inhabitants who have sewers now is treated before it is dumped into streams, the Ohio River Valley Water Sanitation Commission (ORSANCO) reported today.

When plants now under construction are finished, this will be so for 10,349,671 people—or 90.3 per cent of the population.

The commission noted in its annual report that such facilities existed for only 38 per cent of the population in 1948 when eight states banded together to form ORSANCO.

The report to governors of the eight states — Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia — noted that 586 of 1,730 municipalities in the valley still have no waste treatment facilities. These communities have a population of 1,112,922.

BE IT ORDAINED by the Council of City of East Liverpool, Ohio: (two-thirds of all members elected thereto concurring).
SECTION 1. That Ordinance Number 10, 1962, entitled "AN ORDINANCE TO MAKE APPROPRIATIONS FOR CURRENT EXPENSES AND OTHER EXPENDITURES OF THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO, DURING THE CURRENT FISCAL YEAR ENDING DECEMBER 31ST, 1962", be and the same is hereby amended.
SECTION 2. That to provide for other expenditures of said City not provided for in Ordinance Number 10, 1962, the following sums be appropriated in addition to amounts appropriated for the use of the department for which the corporation has to provide, to-wit:
SECTION 3. That there be transferred from the Income Tax Fund the sum of $6,600.00 to the Street Construction, Maintenance and Repair Fund, and there be appropriated from said fund to the following:
Salaries & Wages, $6,600.00.
SECTION 4. This Ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure and shall go into effect immediately upon passage and approval. Said emergency lies in the fact that it is necessary that this Ordinance be passed immediately so that the employees of the Street Department of the City of East Liverpool can be paid, and it is therefore necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety of the citizens of said City.
Passed this 5th day of December, 1962.

3 CARDS OF THANKS

WE wish in this way to express our sincere thanks to the many neighbors, friends and relatives for their kindness and sympathy shown us during our recent bereavement, in the death of our beloved husband, father and brother, Carl Schoenberger. We especially wish to thank the Doctors and nurses who attended him at the East Liverpool City Hospital, Rev. M. Rudolph Miller, Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 66, American Legion Post 114, and the following members of the staff of the Oakland Veterans Hospital for their unswerving and valiant efforts to save his life—Drs. Jospeh Zala, W. T. Kan, John Maxwell, William Domm, Donald Trupp, Nile Lestrange, and Nurses Helen Russell, Anne Kelly, Alice Meloy and Dolores McMahan.—Doris R. Schoenberger, Evelyn Dopler, Viola Harsha, Lillian Schoenberger.

WE wish to express our sincere thanks to the many neighbors, friends and relatives for their kindness and sympathy shown us during our recent bereavement in the death of our beloved sister, Mrs. Lillie Boring. We especially wish to thank Rev. N. W. Shirkey and The Dawson Funeral Home and all who so kindly helped in every way. Brothers and Sisters of Lillie M. Boring.

Junior Editors Quiz on FARMING

QUESTION: I have heard that nitrogen fixing bacteria are very important. Why?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Nitrogen is a substance necessary to life because it helps make up the protoplasm which is the living material inside the cells of our bodies. We must take in nitrogen all the time to renew these cells and build more. We breathe in nitrogen that is in the air but do not absorb it that way, so we must get it by eating plants or animals which have eaten plants. The plants, in turn, get nitrogen from the soil and the soil gets it in a number of ways such as from rain (A) and fertilizer (B). Another way is through the nitrogen fixing bacteria (C). Bacteria are extremely minute living organisms usually classed as plants. Some are harmful, many very useful, even necessary to our lives. The nitrogen fixing group of bacteria live on the roots of a family of plants called "legumes", which includes peas, beans, alfalfa and clover. These bacteria have the ability to take nitrogen out of the air which works down through the soil. After using this for their own living they die and leave the nitrogen. Certain crops, such as corn, take a great deal of nitrogen out of the soil. The farmers often raise legume crops to improve the soil. Legumes are frequently plowed under for this reason.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Nitrogen is continually being passed around—from air and rain to soil, to plants and animals, back to the soil again. This rotation is called the nitrogen cycle. Find out about the details about this.

★ ★ ★

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I remove soot from a light felt hat?

A. Do not attempt to rub the soot from the hat, or wet it. Just cover thoroughly with dry salt, and then brush off with a stiff brush. This will avoid any smears that usually result from other methods.

Q. How can I clean the surface of my electric iron?

A. With steel wool — being sure, however, to use only a very fine grade of steel wool for this job.

Q. What can I do with a number of mateless stockings that vary in hue?

A. They will achieve a common color and be matched if you boil them slowly for about 15 minutes in enough water to cover. Allow to cool in the pan, then rinse, and hang to dry.

Q. How can I make a substitute for whipped cream?

A. Grate one apple, add two or three tablespoons of sugar and one egg white. Beat until light.

Andrew Carnegie (1835-1919) a famous Scottish - American industrialist, gave away more than $350 million in philanthropic gifts.
